Against Russ

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan met for 2½ hours Thursday night to chart combined American-British action in development of new atomic and missile weapons.

With 12 of their top advisers at their side, the two Western leaders considered concrete moves recommended by two teams of experts who reviewed the problem during the day.

No announcement was made after the session, the third between Eisenhower and Macmillan since their far-ranging global review began Wednesday.

The round of talks was due to end Friday afternoon after a fourth session. A final communique was expected to disclose some of the highly-secret moves discussed to offset Russia's scientific-diplomatic challenge to the free nations.

'Free World'
In advance of Thursday night's meeting, both men pledged in a midday announcement to seek to pool their atomic-missile resources "for the service of the free world" and not just their two nations.

Authoritative officials said both governments planned talks afterward with allied countries in Europe, the Mideast, Asia and even Latin America to help mobilize the assets of all democracies in the cold war struggle.

Sitting in on the night session were Secretary of State Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and five additional advisers on each side. These included Secretary of Defense McElroy, Deputy Secretary Quarles, Atomic Energy Commission chairman Lewis Strauss, Livingston Merchant, the U.S. ambassador to Canada, and John Hay Whitney, American ambassador to London.

British participants were Edwin Plowden, chairman of Britain's Atomic Energy Authority, Sir Harold Caccia, ambassador to Washington, Richard Powell, permanent secretary in the Defense Ministry, Cabinet secretary Sir Norman Brook and British Embassy minister Lord Hood.

The joint announcement at the White House Thursday said Eisenhower and Macmillan had named two high level committees to make recommendations for action in these important fields:

1. Nuclear relationship and co-operation.
2. Problems dealing with missiles and rocketry.

'More And Better Teachers Needed'

3 Ways To Improve Instruction, Administrators Told At NSEA Meet

By HARRIET ASHLEY
Star Staff Writer

"What we need are more and better teachers," Dr. Wayne O. Reed, U.S. deputy commissioner of education, told school administrators Thursday.

Speaking at the District I convention of the Nebraska State Education Assn., Dr. Reed former Nebraska educator, said there are three ways instruction can be improved:

1. Continuing the process of evaluation.
2. Improving research in education.
3. Re-examining patterns for research and teacher training.

He said there are not enough funds for educational research and the problems must be approached by a team method.

"More technical and scientific instruction will have to be made available," Dr. Reed said.

"Seen in perspective, American education has taken great strides," he said, "but teachers stand to lose all of the previous gains if the quality of instruction cannot keep pace with enrollment."

One of every four persons in the U.S. is attending school or college, he said.

The demand for qualified teachers is also rising. Dr. Reed said, with 55,000 needed to meet enrollment increases this year.

He pointed out that the schools were already short 80,000 teachers, making a total teacher deficit of 135,000.

Pointing out the modern advances in learning outside the schools and technical developments, he said "Education has got to run to standstill."

Ogden Nash Speaks
A lighter side to the convention was presented Thursday morning by Ogden Nash, who amused the educators with readings of his light verse.

He noted that since his appearance on television "everyone recognizes me, and I began to feel like a minor celebrity—at least as good as a lady wrestler."

Nash said that one of the benefits of being a writer is that "any praise or blame belongs to nobody else."

Also speaking at the general session was Philip Geary, chief of air transport education for the Nebraska Department of Aeronautics. He said the "silver bridge" of air travel has joined together all the continents and presented one "big barrier — the ethnic problem."

He urged educators to teach children that people must be able to stop down in any country in the world and "look those people in the eye" as equals.

After Car Crash

SPRINGVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — A 3-year-old boy, unhurt when his mother's car plunged over an embankment, summoned aid by blowing the horn of the wrecked car. But his mother died later in a hospital.

Police said Mrs. Elizabeth Thurber, 28, lost control of the car, which crashed through a highway guard rail and down a 30-foot embankment near this Erie County village.

Mrs. Thurber, who was thrown from the car, instructed her son, John, to blow the horn. The persistent noise attracted a nearby resident, Police said they believed the accident occurred only a short time before the two were found.

White Stuff Or Freezing Drizzle
Seen For Friday

A wide area of western Nebraska got its first snowstorm of the season Thursday and Thursday night, leaving a blanket of snow over fields in the large area.

And the Weather Bureau forecast some light snow or freezing drizzle, accompanied by temperatures no higher than the 30s for the entire state Friday.

With the snowfall diminishing about midnight, North Platte reported about an inch covering the ground there. In central Nebraska, Grand Island reported only a thin cover of snow.

Other points reporting snow during the afternoon and through the night included Imperial, Sidney, Scottsbluff, Chadron and Alliance.

No Road Hazards

The State Safety Patrol reported no roads listed as hazardous, but added that Highway 2 between Alliance and Ellsworth was packed with snow. Elsewhere in the snow area highways had melted clear but were wet, the Patrol said.

Earlier strong winds which had whipped the snow some had diminished Thursday night, and fog in the western part of the state had also cleared.

Sanctuary Is Started

Construction of the new $220,000 sanctuary for the First Christian Church at 16th and K has started with completion set for October, 1958.

Donald Gerhard, building committee chairman, said construction of the masonry foundation would start in a week. Ground excavation is nearly completed.

Construction cost on a building permit filed with the city is listed at $178,000, but Gerhard said furniture and equipment would bring the total to about $220,000.

The modified Gothic style building will seat 500 persons. It will be attached to the present building which will be used as an educational unit.

The sanctuary in the present church building will be converted later into a gymnasium, Gerhard said.

$2,500 Bond For Peery Is Ordered Forfeited

A $2,500 bond which had been posted to insure the appearance of Wesley Peery of Lincoln on a robbery charge at the fall jury term was ordered forfeited Thursday by Lancaster District Judge Harry A. Spencer.

Judge Spencer ordered the forfeiture after County Attorney Elmer Scheele had requested the action because Peery was not present when Scheele called the case for arraignment Thursday afternoon. Peery is currently being held by Cleveland, O., authorities under $50,000 bond on an armed robbery charge there.

The bond had been posted for Peery by a professional bonding company Aug. 12. A $7,500 appeal bond was also posted the same day in connection with Peery's appeal of a burglary conviction. This bond remains in force.

Warrant Signed
After ordering the bond forfeited, Judge Spencer signed a bench warrant which requests Ohio authorities to hold Peery for Nebraska lawmen after they have finished with him. The robbery charge here is still pending.

Both the robbery and the burglary charges involved offenses Peery is alleged to have committed Jan. 15, 1956. He was convicted of burglarizing the home of Asst. Police Chief Eugene Masters at 3743 J and stealing Masters' revolver. Peery, 33, allegedly robbed Gus Winkler of 3811 J shortly afterward using Masters' revolver.

Appeal Pending
Peery was found guilty of the burglary charge last April and sentenced to five years in the State Penitentiary. The case is currently pending before the State Supreme Court on appeal.

Peery was also convicted of

Knife-Wielding Robber Accosts
Lincoln Coed On Iowa Campus

IOWA CITY, (AP) — Alyson Glover, 26, of Macon, Ga., was held in the Johnson County jail here Thursday night on charges that he drew a knife on a State University of Iowa co-ed and fled with her purse containing only 89 cents.

Miss Lucigrace Switzer, 21, a graduate student from Lincoln, Neb., told police Glover walked up behind her near the university campus about noon Wednesday and when she felt a sharp object on her back she said: "I've got you. I have a knife in your back. Turn around and give me all your money or I'll cut you."

Miss Switzer, who was treated later for a small cut, turned over her purse and the man ran.

Police picked up Glover and identified him as a man who turned up at the county Monday night and said he was wanted for a $45 store theft in Macon. Police were unable to verify his story and he was released after spending two nights in jail.

Glover was arrested at Cedar Rapids on a vagrancy charge Wednesday night and was released the next day with orders to get out of town.

Officers said Glover told them he made several unsuccessful attempts Thursday to snatch purses from women in Iowa City.

He will be arraigned in Police Court Friday on charges of robbery-with aggravation.

Miss Switzer is a 1957 graduate of the University of Nebraska and winner of the Seacrest award for graduate work in Journalism. At the University of Iowa, she has a research assistantship to Dr. Walter Steigleman.

Truckers Must Get Rid Of Hoffa, AFL-CIO Says

Executive Councils Vote
25 To 4, Meany Reports

WASHINGTON (AP) — The AFL-CIO Executive Council Thursday suspended the Teamsters Union until James R. Hoffa and other allegedly corrupt officials are ousted from the truckers union.

The suspension was announced by AFL-CIO President George Meany who said the teamsters, largest AFL-CIO unit, had failed to rid itself of corruption.

Meany said the vote for suspension was 25 to 4. He declined to name the dissenters.

However, it was learned those voting against suspending the teamsters were council members John F. English, secretary-treasurer of the teamsters; Maurice Hutcheson, carpenters union president; Herman Winters, former bakery workers president, and William Doherty, letter carriers union president.

Doherty was reported to have felt more time should have been given the teamsters for a cleanup.

Needed 10 Votes
The teamsters would have had to have 10 votes in order to block the required two-thirds vote for suspension by the 29-man council.

Asked whether the teamsters had done anything at all to correct widespread corrupt conditions, as previously charged by the AFL-CIO and the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee headed by Sen. McClellan (D-Ark), Meany replied with a flat "No."

Complete Break Needed

Meany said the suspension action means that the 1½-million-man teamsters organization cannot be accepted back in good standing in the parent federation unless it completely 'boots out' teamsters President-elect James R. Hoffa.

Meany and the council ruled that unless the teamsters promptly consent to ousting Hoffa and meet other cleanup conditions, complete expulsion of the union from AFL-CIO ranks will be recommended to the AFL-CIO convention in December.

Meany also said such other newly-elected teamsters officials, as Owen (Bert) Brennan, Detroit, and John O'Rourke, New York, should stand a rigid teamsters union investigation.

Rigged, Judge Rules

Hoffa, who would succeed Dave Beck as president, and the others were elected at a recent Miami convention which Federal District Judge F. Dickinson Letts Wednesday ruled was rigged to pick Hoffa. Letts has barred the officials from taking office until the case is tried on its merits.

Meany spoke after the 29-member AFL-CIO Executive Council held a three-hour closed session to decide whether the teamsters had met AFL-CIO conditions for a cleanup. The AFL-CIO, among other things, had demanded that the union toss out Hoffa.

Hoffa and other teamsters bosses pleaded Thursday for a one-year delay in their threatened ouster. But rather than promising specific reforms, they stressed mainly how bad it would be for labor for their union — the nation's largest — to be kicked out of the AFL-CIO.

Hoffa angrily stalked out of the federation headquarters building shortly before the verdict was announced. He refused to talk to newsmen.

Had To Be Done

Meany said he and his council members regretted considerably having to punish the AFL-CIO's largest affiliate, but that it was something that had to be done. "We exceedingly regret the necessity for this action," the council's statement said.

"However, we are sworn to uphold the AFL-CIO constitution. The constitution requires and the members of the teamsters union are entitled to have a clean union."

"This action of the Executive Council puts the ultimate fate of the teamsters union squarely in the hands of the leadership of that union. The suspension can be lifted at any time that the union complies with the council's directive to eliminate corrupt influences from positions of leadership."

U.S. Challenges
Russia Feats

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is hurling aloft a virtual fusillade of mighty missiles and rockets, ranging from a record-shattering shot into outer space to spectacular destruction by a robot weapon of a target plane a hundred miles out over the Atlantic Ocean.

In obvious challenge to Russia's claims of leadership in the race of scientists and weapons, this country had chalked up by Thursday night these new achievements:

1. The launching of two research rockets by the Air Force from balloons. One of these seems to have swooshed straight up to not less than 4,000 miles.

This height dwarfs the previous farthest-out record. The Army's Jupiter C experimental device, not of weapon design, was unofficially reported to have gone about 3,000 miles and climbed to an altitude of more than 600 miles a year ago. Russia's Sputnik satellite was put into orbit at a reported altitude of 560 miles.

No Warhead

2. The firing of an Air Force Bomarc long range anti-aircraft guided missile from the Cape Canaveral, Fla., missile test center which ferreted out, collided with and knocked down (without benefit of warhead) a drone bomber a hundred miles out over the Atlantic Ocean.

3. Another successful shoot Thursday of an Air Force Thor Intermediate Range Ballistic Missile (IRBM) from Cape Canaveral. This was the sixth time the USAF has fired a Thor and the fourth successful shot. Thursday's missile "flew its prescribed course and landed in the pre-selected impact area," said an Air Force announcement. The Thor was understood to have gone more than 1,500 miles and hit its target.

Unofficial reports became current Thursday night that Thursday's Thor firing actually reached a range greater than any previously attained by either an Air Force or Army IRBM.

These reports said that the Air Force aimed at and hit an impact area more than 2,500 miles distant. Earlier in the day, another research rocket, not a weapon, also was fired from Canaveral. On Tuesday the Army, competing with the Air Force in IRBM development, made another successful launching of its Jupiter weapon.

Along with these rocket and weapon shoots came the Navy's successful test Wednesday of the first stage of the three-series rocket power intended for sending up an American satellite. The single engine, working against the dead weight of the 22,600 pounds of the satellite launching device, thrust the vehicle to an altitude of 109 miles at a peak speed of 4,250 miles an hour.

Benson May Get
White House Job

... Ike Aide Post Reported Open

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Will Secretary of Agriculture Benson be the fourth member of the Eisenhower cabinet to leave office in 1957?

This question was being asked in government and farm circle Thursday in the wake of Atty. Gen. Brownell's resignation and Benson's departure Tuesday on a round-the-world trip to check up on U.S. farm surplus disposal operations abroad.

Even before these two events, reports were circulating—particularly in the Agriculture Department—that Benson will be moved from his cabinet post to another job.

The reports were that Benson would go to the White House where he would serve as an assistant to the President on a broadened farm surplus disposal program. His world trip ties into such speculation.

But Benson aides declare there is no truth to the reports. They say that the White House has made plans for Benson, in the capacity of Secretary of Agriculture, to carry well into February. Benson himself said recently that he has no plans to resign.

The collapse of many previous forecasts of his resignation would appear to lend weight to the prospect of Benson's continuing indefinitely as farm secretary.

Benson has been under fire from some farm organizations, and from some farm leaders of his own as well as of the Democratic party, since shortly after he took office in 1953 and outlined policies calling for reduced government aid to farmers.

A number of times, Republican farm state Congress members have called on Eisenhower to remove Benson. But Eisenhower has always responded with a warm endorsement of his farm chief.

Yet perhaps at no time in Benson's tenure has criticism of his policies been so widespread as it is today.

Farm income has failed to keep pace with that of other elements of the economy. More expressions of dissatisfaction are coming from farm organizations than ever before.

Nebraskan Blast
Some see a political significance in the action of a few farmers in tossing eggs at Benson when he arose to make a speech at Sioux Falls, S.D., recently.

Sen. Proxmire (D-Wis.) credited his recent upset election in Wisconsin to dissatisfaction of that state's dairy farmers with administration farm programs. Benson has said that this is not true, but some Republicans have agreed with Proxmire.

More inside-the-party opposition came Thursday from Rep. Miller, a Nebraska Republican who predicted the GOP would lose about six congressional seats from the Midwest in next year's election unless Benson is removed.

Miller said he plans to take up the question promptly with Sherman Adams, Eisenhower's top aide, and Republican national chairman Meade ALCorn.

"Farmers are confused, uncertain and unhappy," Miller said. "There are too many regulations... Benson has talked too much about cutting prices and production and the farmers don't like it."

Flu At Union College Labeled 'Asian'

6 Of 12 Tests Said Positive

By MARGARET DVORAK
Star Staff Writer

Test results on six out of 12 cases of flu at Union College have identified the cases as the Asian type, Dr. E. A. Rogers, director of the State Health Department, reported Thursday afternoon.

Considering problem factors in the egg embryo test used, Dr. Rogers said, this result "constitutes a very high percentage of Asian flu," and indicates the extreme likelihood that the many other flu cases, in which symptoms have appeared to be similar to those of Union College students, are of the Asian variety.

He said a blood specimen test on a Hastings case indicated Asian flu, but results on other tests of University of Nebraska and Hastings blood specimens, now being run at the state health department, will not be available until the second specimens are obtained.

Meanwhile, Dr. Rogers and five other physicians connected with hospitals and public health agencies cautioned that "in order to avoid misunderstanding" results of flu tests "should be interpreted only by physicians seeing these cases."

"Announcements relating to such public health problems should come only from physicians with laboratory reports verified by authorized public health laboratories," a method recommended by the Nebraska State Medical Association and available without change to physicians through all Lincoln hospitals, they said.

Joining with Dr. Rogers in the statement were Dr. George Underwood, director of the city-county health department, and Dr. Harold Miller, Dr. H. L. Papenfuss, Dr. Frank Tanner and Dr. E. B. Zeman, physician directors of the laboratories of the Lincoln hospitals.

Schools Out

The percentage of flu among Lincoln Public School children could not be accurately determined Thursday, since schools are now dismissed during the Teacher's Convention.

In the Catholic parochial schools, Superintendent Jerome Murray reported, there has been no increase in the flu among elementary students and there are no plans to close any of them at this time. Pius X High School, which closed Monday, will re-open classes next Monday, Msgr. Murray said.

At the University of Nebraska, 229 cases of flu were reported Thursday afternoon, with 11 victims hospitalized. The figure Wednesday was 217 cases with 14 hospitalized.

The present number, although double the number of cases reported last week at this time, still does not constitute an epidemic on a campus with a student population of 8,000, Dr. S. I. Fuenning, director of Health Services, said.

Monday's report showed 83 cases and Tuesday's 157.

Limited Test Of Plan

So far, the University's extensive plans for handling any sudden outbreak of flu have been put to only a limited test, Dr. Fuenning said.

A public health nurse and a hospital nurse have been employed in addition to the regular staff of Health Services and nurses make daily rounds of all University dormitories, sororities, fraternities and other organized houses to check records and conditions of patients.

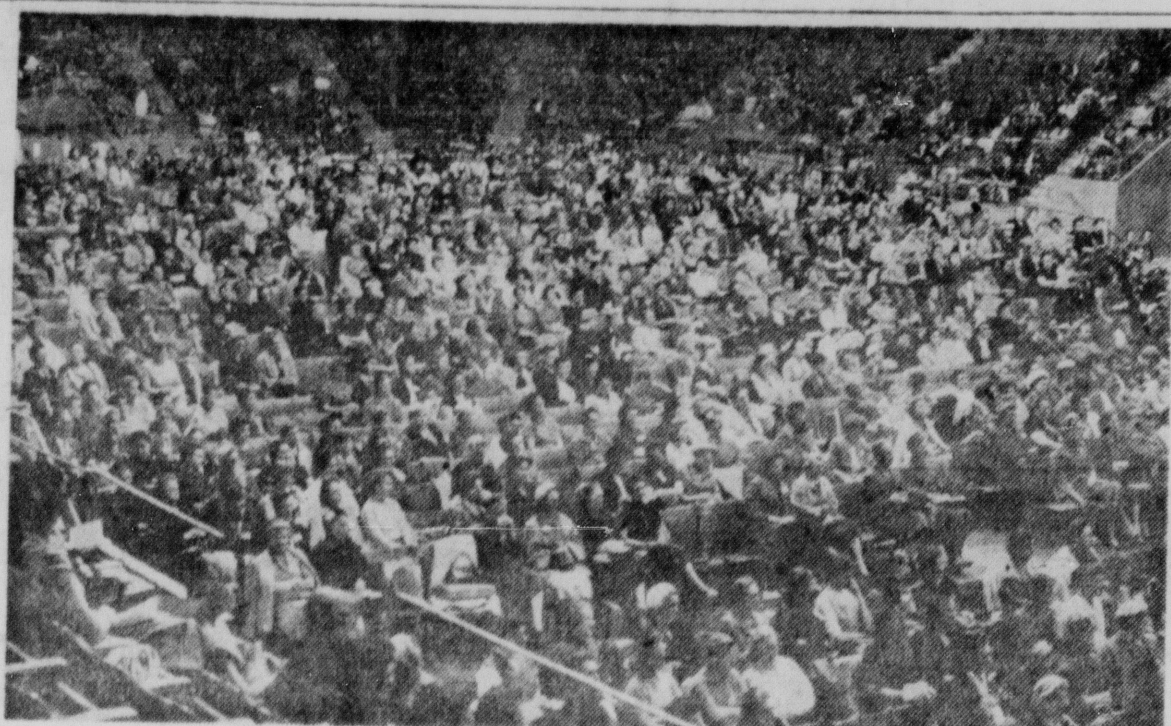

Dr. Fuenning reported that in case of an outbreak of epidemic proportions, temporary emergency wards will be set up in the basement, recreation room and television rooms of the Sellschick dormitory and in the ballroom of the Residence Hall for Women. The Health Services has available, on a two-hour notice, 3,000 steel cots, mattresses and comforters and 2,400 sheets.

Diminishing At NWU

The number of flu cases at Nebraska Wesleyan University has been "diminishing considerably," officials there reported. Although no check is available on students living in Lincoln, 70 students in dormitories and organized houses were reported on the "sick roll" Thursday, compared to 100 Wednesday.

However, officials pointed out that some of those on the "sick roll" may be suffering from other illness. During the last week, four faculty members have been ill, apparently with the flu, it was reported.

At Union College, also, the number of new flu cases was lessening. Dr. Chester L. Norman reported Thursday there were about 30 new cases, compared to 50 on Wednesday. In all, Dr. Norman estimated about 200 students have had the flu, with some of the first victims now returned to their classrooms. Two instructors presently have the flu. No one has been hospitalized, he said.

Abundance Or Destruction Is World's Choice, Ike Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower told eminent scientists and diplomats Thursday that "the world now has a choice between the technology of abundance and the technology of destruction."

Speaking at presentation of the first "Atoms for Peace" award to Prof. Niels Bohr, Eisenhower said the choice lies between applying power to constructive purposes or to "war and desolation." He said there is no question about what the people of the world prefer.

The United States, Eisenhower said, has emphasized development of the atom for peaceful purposes. And he called Bohr, a distinguished Danish physicist, a great human being who exemplifies a spirit that the world needs in pursuing development of the atom for peaceful purposes.

The atoms-for-peace awards were established by the Ford Motor Co. as a result of a challenge Eisenhower laid down at the Geneva "summit" conference in 1955. This was for private business and professional men to "take an interest and provide an incentive" in finding new ways for using nuclear science "for the benefit of mankind and not destruction."

Bohr, who is 72, was the first recipient. He received a gold medalion, a check for $75,000, and a citation for having exerted "great moral force in behalf of the utilization of atomic energy for peaceful purposes."

JAYNE ROBBED OF A GARTER ... Worth $1,000

MILAN, Italy (AP)—Jayne Mansfield's manager said Thursday night the blonde actress lost a $1,000 diamond-studded garter when a mob of Italian fans pushed and shoved her.

The manager said he told a policeman about it informally, but did not make an official complaint. Police professed no knowledge of the incident.

Jayne also lost two shoes in the near-riot outside Amilan movie theater Thursday night. Several hundred fans mobbed her car and struggled to get pieces of Miss Mansfield's clothing. She was carried inside the theater by the manager, Bill Winter.

"I've never seen such a mob in 20 years," Winter said.

He said the garter was given to Miss Mansfield by her weight-lifter fiancé, Mickey Hargitay.

NEW YORK—Stocks tacked a small gain Thursday onto the epochal advance of the previous day.

Most stocks ended higher with advances confined to $1 or less. There was a very liberal sprinkling of losses. Trading slackened to the lowest level of the week.

It was quite a contrast with Wednesday. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks closed at $157.20, a gain of 50 cents. Wednesday it had jumped $5.80 in the biggest one day advance in 28 years.

C-119 Dives, Burns; Four Men Killed

MIDWEST CITY, Okla. (AP)—A big Air Force C-119 Flying Boxcar exploded near this Oklahoma City suburb Thursday night and a witness said the pilot apparently rode it down to miss a housing area.

The four crewmen were killed. "He turned on his landing lights so he could locate a clear spot," said Charles Chilcoat, 31, who saw the plane crash.

An ambulance driver said, "if the plane had fallen 500 yards to the east, west, or south, it would have been in the middle of houses."

Names of the dead were not released pending notification of next of kin.

Wooded Area

The big plane crashed about 8 p.m. (CST) in a wooded area, not far from a thickly populated area of this city, built during World War II near Tinker Air Force Base and home for many years of the base's 20,000 employees.

United Fund Now Has 84 Per Cent

Reports Thursday brought the United Fund campaign of the Lincoln Community Chest and Red Cross to 84 per cent of the $390,581 goal.

Eaton handed in the lowest percentage of total goal and was obliged to paint the tools on the downtown scoreboard.

Industrial and automotive, Harold Osborn, $7,268, $37,796, 85 per cent. This division led in the point-total contest. Results of which will be revealed at a Friday noon luncheon.

Food and services, Lester Rau, $1,129, $25,438, 83 per cent.

Public departments, Fred Herrington, $2,367, $39,301, 85 per cent. This division was lowest in the point-total contest.

Women's division, Mrs. J. Kenneth Snodden, $201, $13,646, 90 per cent.

Division A, Phil Assenmacher, $13,107, $282,905.

Moonwatchers Interrupted By Low Visibility

In spite of an urgent request from the Astrophysical Institute that Nebraska Moonwatchers continue their observations, low visibility interrupted study Thursday night.

International Geophysical Year officials have apparently learned what they want to know from the rocket, Prof. Carroll Moore said Wednesday. "Now they are eager for reports on the progress of the satellite itself," he said.

The satellite is currently more accommodating to the earth people in this area. Moonwatching begins at 6 p.m. instead of the early morning hours due to its westerly movement, according to Moore.

Observers will be stationed just west of Magee stadium on the Wesleyan campus.

The Wesleyan physicist who directs Nebraska's only official satellite observation bureau, said Sputnik would cross "our north-south line" in a most favorable position for evening observation.

Moore said the satellite is computed to be about 40 minutes behind the rocket, moving westward at a rate of about two or three degrees each night.

DON'T TRY TO CHEAT ON LEAVES

Falling leaves and yard-raking bring this autumn reminder. Lincoln ordinances prohibit the raking of leaves into the street or the burning of them on the pavement.

Superintendent of Streets Lynn Myer said crews will sweep only leaves that fall on the pavement and will not remove leaves raked into the gutter from yards.

However, anyone who doesn't have enough leaves for shrubbery or compost may obtain an additional supply by calling 2-4704.

As the Street Department is sweeping the streets, it will be glad to haul leaves to anyone wanting them, Myers said.

Vote Suggested On Separate Juvenile Court Amendment

A Nebraska State Bar Assn. committee has recommended voter approval of a proposed constitutional amendment authorizing separate juvenile courts in the state.

Under a bill passed by the last Legislature, voters will ballot for or against the amendment in the November general election next year.

The report by the bar association's committee on crime and delinquency prevention was prepared for delivery at next week's state convention in Omaha and was released Thursday.

The committee, headed by James F. Brogan of Madison, also recommended continued study and observation of the statewide probation system provided by the last Legislature.

The system, to be administered by district judges, had been advocated by the bar group.

-NOBEL PRIZE- DR. BOVET HONORED

... MEDICINE AWARD

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—Dr. Daniel Bovet, an Italian scientist who helped ease the lot of allergy sufferers with antihistamines and of surgical patients with a deadly poison, was awarded the 1957 Nobel prize for medicine Thursday. He arose from a sickbed to say how happy he was.

Dr. Bovet is the man who adapted curare, used by South American Indians for centuries to poison their darts, for use synthetically as a relaxing anesthetic in modern surgery.

He was a pioneer in the development of antihistamines to combat such irritants as hay fever, rash, eczema and asthma.

Now he is studying the effect of tranquilizers on human beings.

Recovering From Flu

Dr. Bovet was recovering from Asian flu at his home in Rome when he got the official notification from Sweden's ambassador to Italy, Eric Von Post. The lean, slightly built Swiss-born scientist, 50, was happily overwhelmed.

"I'm very happy," he said. "It was a great surprise. I did not even know I was a candidate."

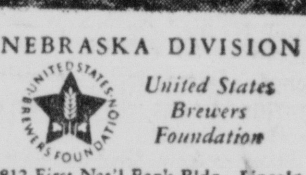

Up from his bed, he went with his wife and co-worker, Mrs. Philomena Bovet, to the Italian Superior Health Institute, where he heads the pharmacology department. White-robed colleagues—doctors and nurses, congratulated him, grasped his hand and clapped him on the back.

Where is it...IN NEBRASKA?

Scenic 60-foot Falls is one of nature's beauty spots in northwestern Nebraska. It is formed by a small spring-fed stream which originates half a mile away. You'll find this Falls near Valentine.

Beer Belongs... because its sparkling goodness spells friendship—and a moment of relaxation—at home or away. It is the time-honored light, bright beverage.

What to do about ASIAN FLU

A PUBLIC SERVICE NOTICE FROM

JOHN VAN BLOOM
representing Mutual of Omaha

Ideally, your physician should be called and his instructions followed. However, in an epidemic situation, he may not be able to give you prompt and undivided attention. In that event, these are the things to remember:

1. Keep away from others.
2. Follow the common sense treatment you'd use for ordinary "flu". In other words, go to bed and remain there until your temperature has become normal and you feel well enough to get up and about.
3. Drink lots of fruit juices and liquids—but avoid alcoholic beverages.
4. Don't overeat—stick to bland foods like toast, chicken, tea, ice cream, simple fruits and vegetables, milk, etc.
5. Notify your physician if any unusual symptoms develop.

Can you afford to give up 8-10 days pay?

Doctors say that Asian Flu takes its victims away from their jobs for 8-10 days, barring further complications. If you can't afford to give up the income you'd normally receive for this period of time, we urge you to mail the coupon below.

It will bring you FREE INFORMATION about Mutual of Omaha's low-cost protection plan.

This is not a haphazard plan to set up only for the current emergency. Instead, it is a well-established schedule of benefits covering virtually all types of sickness and accidents.

It pays you cash from the very first day that you're treated by your doctor, whether you're disabled by accident or confined to home or hospital by sickness covered by your policy.

The epidemic season for Asian Flu is close at hand. Send for free information today.

1 out of 6 persons in this area may come down with ASIAN FLU this winter. Write today for free facts!

Top Officials Say Flow Of U.S. War Supplies To Tito Will End

... Because Of Diplomatic Move

WASHINGTON (INS)—Top U.S. sources said Thursday the flow of American jet aircraft, tanks and other major military equipment to Yugoslavia will end because Marshal Tito has extended diplomatic recognition to Communist East Germany.

Informed officials declared that scheduled military aid talks between U.S. negotiators and the "independent" Communist dictator will be canceled in the light of Tito's renewed relationships with Soviet satellites and his increasing warmth toward the Kremlin.

As a further indication of America's sharp disapproval of Tito's recognition of the East German Red regime, which caused West Germany to break diplomatic relations with Yugoslavia, negotiations for additional U.S. economic aid are expected to be delayed.

Well-briefed sources said the actions will be taken in line with the congressional directive that aid to Yugoslavia be halted if Tito refused to keep his regime genuinely independent of Moscow.

Official announcement reportedly is being withheld until President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles complete study of latest developments in the Yugoslav situation.

Mr. Eisenhower is expected to cut off shipments of military equipment to Yugoslavia when the existing agreement is fulfilled.

Particular objection was raised in Congress at the time the aid program came under consideration to consignment of latest-type jet planes to the Communist country.

Senate Republican leader William F. Knowland, Calif., led an unsuccessful fight to block the jet shipments.

Consulted

Military, as well as diplomatic, experts were consulted by the President and Dulles in connection with the reported decision to let the aid pact with Tito lapse.

Russia's recent belligerent threats to Turkey, including the Soviet appointment of a top Red Army leader, Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky, as chief of Russian forces deployed near the Turkish and Iranian borders, are believed to have figured in the discussions.

Yugoslavia, it was pointed out, lies within easy jet-plane range of the Dardanelles and other strategic areas at the gateway to the Middle East.

Movie Executive Feldman Is Dead; Onetime Omahan

NEW YORK (AP)—Charles J. Feldman, 57, who played a big part in the movies but was never seen by the fans, died at his home.

At death, he was vice president and general sales manager of Universal Pictures Co., Inc. When the actors and producers had done their work it was Feldman's job to get the film shown in theaters over the country.

Feldman had spent almost a lifetime in the movie industry. He started out as a salesman for United Artists in Omaha in 1927.

On learning of Feldman's death, Eric Johnston, president of the Motion Picture Assn. of America, said "the business will miss him as an industry statesman."

Feldman was born in Providence, R.I. Surviving him are his widow, Mary; a brother, Philip of Omaha and two sisters, Jennie of Omaha and Claire of Los Angeles.

Classroom Teachers Elect Miss Valentine

The Department of Classroom Teachers of District I Thursday night elected Ruth Valentine of Lincoln as its director, succeeding Mrs. Marion Holt.

James Wall of Waverly was named assistant director; Mrs. Lois A. Hegstrom of Lincoln, secretary, and Mrs. Fern Westfall of Malcolm, treasurer.

Jennings Flathers, south-central regional director of the classroom teachers, spoke to the group on "The Role of the Classroom Teacher."

Northeast Teacher Picked By Division

Mary Burnham, Lincoln Northeast High School librarian, was elected president of the English, Speech and Library Division of District I.

Others elected were Earl Conover, English, speech and Spanish instructor at Crete High School, vice president; and Muriel White, Beatrice High School English instructor, secretary-treasurer.

Administrators Pick Archie McPherran

Archie McPherran, Southeast High School principal, was named presiding officer of the Nebraska Assn. of School Administrators replacing Dick Whitmore, Crete superintendent, who was selected to represent District I on the executive council of the school administrators of Nebraska.

The Clifford Hope Boom

It will take a little time to learn whether Nebraska's boom of Clifford Hope, retired Kansas Republican congressman, to succeed Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson is a thing of substance or a piece of local wishfulness.

Mr. Benson at this stage neither stands dismissed nor resigned, and the Eisenhower administration has given no outward sign of dissatisfaction with him.

If it is the elections of 1958 that are bearing on the mind of the Republican party the current moment would be a good one to make Benson walk the plank. He has estranged now the maximum number of farmers, and any change would carry the promise of a better deal long enough, at least, to shore up the Republican position for a year.

Clifford Hope is an acceptable figure, a man with sympathy for and understanding of agriculture. His appointment would occasion optimism. But here may lie the pitfall.

Walter Locke

Death has finally stilled the voice of Walter Locke—a voice that has spoken through the printed word for more than half a century. It would have to be this way for him as he never stopped searching for the truth, never ceased in his quest for a new approach to problems. And as his thirst for knowledge was never quenched, so grew within him the determination to give to others what he so richly possessed—an understanding and love of life.

A newspaper man throughout his career, Mr. Locke constantly endeavored through his literary work to give his fellow men a firm foundation on which to build their lives. Were he asked, his prescription for complete existence might have been an unfettered mind and a kinship with nature.

Despite the breadth of influence he commanded through the pages of the Dayton Daily

Back of Secretary Benson is a Republican policy which endorsed the type of farm program the secretary has carried forth. It does not go along with the principle of parity, if parity is to involve any federal responsibility. It works toward the day when the farm problem will be wholly the farmer's problem. It is indifferent to the welfare of the agricultural states in that it would trade a self-sufficient population for big scale, corporate type of farming.

It is less important at this stage to behold Secretary Benson than to examine Republican policy for a revision of its philosophy. If that is to remain unchanged then a man like Hope would be little more than a more sympathetic mortician.

The point to keep in mind is that the type of funeral is not as important as staying out of the cemetery. Before Nebraska goes overboard for Clifford Hope it should first call Republican policy to an accounting—to find out for certain what he is going to be hired to do.

News and the other three newspapers in the Cox chain with which he was associated, Mr. Locke centered his attentions on the things and people around him—not himself. Full of deep convictions and determination, he was at the same time utterly without vanity.

Associations made in Lincoln during his 26 years as an editorial writer on the Lincoln Journal were maintained by Mr. Locke throughout his life. His annual visits to Nebraska and the anticipation with which his friends waited for these times are a tribute to his warm personality and perpetually broadened horizons.

Walter Locke and his writings never lived in the past but he and his work offered to lift mankind up above the level of day-to-day human achievements. Thus, with their insight and intimacy with life, his words will carry on. Gone is the man but the spirit has attained eternity.

No Time For A Rift

Whatever coloring the reasons take on it is hardly to be expected that the American Legion in Nebraska will relish the withdrawal of the Omaha high school students from the Legion's Boys and Girls County Government Day this year.

It is also evident that Legion leaders view as more tactful than all-covering the explanation of Omaha School Superintendent Dr. Harry Burke that the Legion exercises fall at the time of mid-semester examinations—an untimely development especially in view of the absences of so many pupils because of influenza. One gathers this from initial responses from Legion leaders. Justice Robert Simmons of the State Supreme Court hastened to explain that the Legion is not engaging in the event with the thought of self-promotion. A little sharper was the expression of W. A. Smith, commander of Legion Post No. 1, who attributed to Superintendent Burke an expression that the Legion's program does not justify participation on a regular school day.

It has seemed clear from the start that the Legion has not sought to usurp the function of organized education nor to imply that public school teaching of civics is less than satisfactory. Nor does it seem properly expressive of organized education to look askance at programs by patriotic organizations seeking to sharpen citizenship. No one has a monopoly either on citizenship or teaching.

There is in this Omaha incident an incipient rift between two respected agencies—an issue too small and too inconsequential to be allowed to develop into anything serious. If there are misunderstandings now is the time to resolve them.

So Many Of Them

The United Nations Education, Scientific and Cultural Organization is authority for the statement that there are 700,000,000 people in this world who can neither read nor write. And that is the greater number of people who are currently living.

There are relatively small pockets of people who are more fortunate. Literacy in the United States, Great Britain and Russia runs high—not less than 97.5 per cent. It is only natural that they are great powers.

In any contemplation of the problem of world need and peaceful improvement it seems evident that the first task is to educate, for that is both the beginning of understanding and the staging point for progress.

It is a question whether American foreign aid programs such as deal either with military problems or economic advance will ever justify their expense and effort unless general education programs are required as a concomitant.

And certainly one thing is true. There is no practical way by which democracy can be made to succeed without the essential ingredient of literacy and since it is democracy we are working for we seem to be missing the central point.

Good Question

A headline said psychiatry has started a study of why do people stay sane. Considering that psychoanalysis is a learned field the only fitting comment on the question is why wasn't it asked long before this? Perhaps there was a time long ago when there was some payoff in maintaining the standard complement of faculties. But all that sanity gets one nowadays is a lot of sleepless nights, what with Russian satellites flying overhead, the stock market going underground and the friendly finance company's bluecoats standing at the open window waiting to know why you don't hand over some of your next year's earnings to pay on last year's spending.

Cost Mindedness Stymied Missiles

WASHINGTON — One of the unpublished facts about the American "Sputnik" snafu is that the Army has six satellites in a warehouse in Huntsville, Ala., all ready to launch. They could have been launched before the Sputnik, thus keeping the USA ahead of the USSR in science, and preventing one of the greatest psychological defeats the United States ever suffered.

About three months ago, the Budget Bureau, which operates directly under the White House, actually sent auditors to the Army's Redstone Arsenal at Huntsville, to make sure the Army did not spend a nickel on the satellite program.

In trying to track down the reason why these satellites were sidetracked, this column ran into rigid government censorship. Every official connected with the military phase of the satellite program has been ordered not to talk to the press.

As far as can be ascertained, however, it was stringent economy and fear that the Eisenhower administration might break through the debt ceiling regarding which Republicans had severely criticized the Truman administration, that caused the peremptory order from the Budget Bureau. However, there were other important factors involved earlier, in switching the satellite program away from the Army.

HITLER HELD BACK TOO

The Army project at Huntsville dates back to early 1954 when Dr. Fred Singer of the University of Maryland, Dr. Fred Whipple, director of the Smithsonian Astrophysical Laboratory, and Dr. Werner von Braun, the German rocket scientist, meeting in Washington, outlined a plan to launch a man-made moon into the heavens.

The satellite program back in 1954 called "Operation Orbiter" was made a joint interservice operation, though technically under the jurisdiction of the Navy. The Army's part of the operation was probably the most important—namely, to prepare the rocket gear for launching the satellite into space. To do this, the Army planned to use a big Redstone missile with a cluster of smaller Loki missiles.

Getting the satellite off the ground into outer space requires tremendous force, and one reason U. S. scientists are convinced Russia has the ICBM (Intercontinental Ballistic Missile) is because a missile of major power must have been used to launch the Sputnik.

The Army actually let a contract to Aerophysics Corporation for the designing of the Loki cluster, plus another contract to the Alabama Engineering and Tool Company to start building a composite missile, namely a big Redstone with the cluster of Lokis.

The work of the Navy in this partnership program was to put the instruments into the satellite, do the tracking after it was launched.

The work of the Air Force was to supply the logistics. The work of Dr. Fred Singer at the University of Maryland was to design the satellite itself.

SUDDEN CANCELLATION

Then suddenly, the Defense Department canceled "Operation Orbiter."

Cancellation was made on the recommendation of the so-called Stewart committee, a group of government scientists headed by Dr. Homer Stewart of Cal Tech University. It renamed the project "Operation Vanguard," selected a brand-new Navy proposal for launching the satellite, and placed it entirely under the Navy.

DORIS FLEESON

Sputnik Magnifies Gruenther's Star

WASHINGTON — The dramatically sharpened race between the United States and the Soviet Union for diplomatic, military and scientific advantage is causing some political observers to recast their thinking about the presidential campaign of 1960.

Until the Soviet conquest of outer space and the Khrushchev diplomatic offensive in the Middle East it was being widely assumed that two domestic issues — integration and inflation — would dominate the next race for the presidency.

Now leaders of both parties are beginning to ask themselves and others how impressive their candidates will appear when the question uppermost in the voters' minds is in the struggle with a newly aggressive, well-armed Russia.

It is a truism that the confidence of Americans in President Eisenhower's intimate knowledge of the Russians in war and cold war contributed heavily to his two victories. Similarly, in 1948 President Truman was helped in his return to the White House by the vision and courage he had shown in dealing with Moscow.

In the Republican party the turn of events is reviving talk of the availability of General Alfred M. Gruenther, President Eisenhower's brilliant chief of staff at SHAPE and eventually his successor there. When General Gruenther accepted the presidency of the American Red Cross here rather than lucrative offers in private business, it was suspected that the President might have something of the sort in mind.

General Gruenther will be 61 in 1960. A Catholic, he is a professional army man never associated with politics. There is no partisan agreement about his creative powers and he is popular with both sides in Congress.

Among Democrats, any profit in the altered prospect must go to Adlai Stevenson and Governor Averell Harriman of New York. Stevenson has been twice beaten; Harriman in 1960 will be 69. Yet, with Dean Acheson, the Truman secretary of state, and former President Truman himself, they shape the thinking of their party on international affairs.

The present group of candidates will not, of course, how out of the picture, but at least one has shown that he is fully conscious of how it is developing. He is Vice President Richard M. Nixon, a politician who always looks ahead.

Nixon is determined to make a full-dress tour of Europe, precisely because he knows it is important to him to build his international stature. It is a field in which his practical experience is very limited; he must do what he can with what opportunities are open to him.

BOB CONSIDINE

Navy Atomic Depth Charges Readied

NEW YORK — Only two months to Christmas. Must remember to mail my 1956 Christmas cards soon.

The Navy has announced it has atomic depth charges, and has supplied elements of the fleet with same.

How will the ships or planes escape, after heaving the charges? Must this not be done at low level? The escape problem has been a source of concern to our military people ever since a handful of men at Los Alamos and the Pentagon concluded that, A) there could be an atomic explosion, and B) it would carry with it, in addition to rays and radioactive fall-out, the wallop of 20,000 tons of TNT.

The B-29 crews based at Tinian practiced escape methods for weeks before we knew we actually had a bomb whose dropping would endanger the dropping craft and its crew. They complained bitterly at this ceaseless nonsense, and also because they were ordered to ditch a mock-up of the A-bomb here and there near Tinian, in shallow water, and report accurately on where the thing had been deposited.

"What's this all about?" One of the pilots demanded one day of Brig. Gen. Tom Farrell.

Europe. Why will we have to do so careful with this one?"

"Well," said Farrell, "for one thing, this one you're going to drop just about as much as the whole U.S.S. Missouri."

"One way you look at it," said Farrell's superior, Lt. Gen. Leslie R. Groves later, "The bombs we dropped on Hiroshima and Nagasaki cost $1,000,000,000 each — for it cost $2,000,000,000 to produce them."

On the occasion of the gripe, Gen. Farrell also was permitted to reveal the need for extreme care after the drop. Every other high altitude bomber since the birth of military aviation had dropped its load, passed over the explosion below with usually not a bump, and gone on about its business. But the A-bombers had to figure out the best means of putting as much of an air cushion between themselves and the atomic detonation as was possible.

In time, by means of a wing-straining 18 degree turn the moment the A-bomb was clear of the prop wash, a B-29 flying at 30,000 could get perhaps 10 to 12 miles away from the blast. Even that wasn't comfortable.

THE NEIGHBORS SAY

Nostradamus Called The Shot 400 Years Ago

By MONA B. PARKER

"Rain, rain, go away. Farmers want sunshine," implores the Burt County Plaindealer. With continued moisture and damp weather holding back harvest work there as elsewhere over the state, many farmers are "becoming concerned lest snow flies before the beans can be combined and corn and sorghum harvested." A sharp freeze any time now would also help in the crop-finishing process.

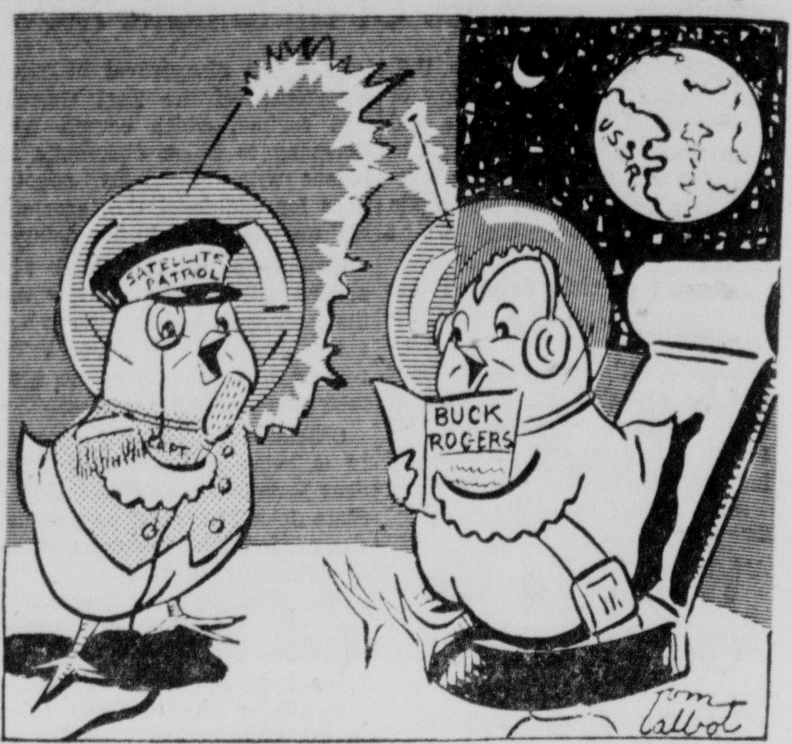

Meanwhile, the Walthill Citizen remembers back to other drier days with the resolve never to complain about mud or the inconveniences that accompany a steady downpour. "After drought, one comes to realize how precious rainfall really is."

With farmers working hard at both ends of the shortening days, Ed Krikac admits in the Comstock News that he may be a little dense on the matter, but it simply doesn't filter through to him just where the saving is in daylight saving time, or how it makes the day any longer. As a matter of fact, it isn't new at all, he says, but originated out West years ago "when an Indian cut a strip off one end of his blanket and sewed it on the other end to make the blanket longer."

Some true gourmets were discussing a subject in Exeter recently that regrettably seems to have wandered away from the pages of the modern-day cookbooks. The makin's are still available, but what has happened to watermelon pickles and preserves?

Try some the next time you polish off some of the big red fruit, urges the Fillmore County News. And "if you don't know how to make them, ask someone in the over-fifty age bracket."

Two publications pointed up the very human failing of believing that time stands still for each of us, all the while commenting on

The Polk Progress's military adviser, Gen. Noose, voiced his own opinion of Russian satellites quite well with "I spitnik on their spitnik." A higher source than the local one hands down the soothing information that the beeps from the misguided missile are nothing more or less than a bunch of baby chicks that had been placed in the satellite. The Progress argued, then, that wouldn't the sound be "peep, peep," instead of "beep, beep," but Washington as always had the last word, "You don't expect Russian baby chicks to speak American, do you?"

the evidence of passing years on others.

Jim Conway has been mixing editorial duties on the Spalding Enterprise with a little trekking around the countryside to football games where he now and then sees some of the old-timers he hasn't encountered for a long time. Home again and "taking a peep in the mirror causes us to come to the conclusion that time may be a great healer but it is no beauty specialist."

An age-defying alumnus of the Kearney State Teachers College came back to homecoming there and had the observation to offer that there were many members of his 1939 graduating class who "seem to be a lot older than he had remembered them."

The Holdrege Citizen was taking due note of satellites and such, too. Editor Spence harped back to the wisdom of Nostradamus who in 1550 put forth the information that the world would turn its eyes into "the space beyond" and that "strange things" would appear. And the 16th century prophet added knowingly that "gentlefolk would not be told of the increasing danger apparent."

The prediction would have meant little to us even 20 years ago, Mr. Spence admits. But one can put it into understandable close-to-home perspective when we realize that the rocket's orbit brings it within 150 miles of the earth, which is only the distance from Holdrege to Lincoln.

The Mitchell Case

New York City, N.Y.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: The liaison committee at the University of Nebraska, in its forthcoming report on the Mitchell case, should direct its administrative officials — in particular, Chancellor Clifford M. Hardin and Dean William V. Lambert of the College of Agriculture—to:

(1) Apologize publicly for the professional slurs cast upon Dr. C. Clyde Mitchell as a professor and administrator (in administrative statements concerning his demotion as chairman of the department of agricultural economics) and the university as an institution (as pointed out by a faculty report affirming that Dr. Mitchell's academic freedom had been violated in three specific instances by university administrators).

(2) Assure the public in unequivocal terms that proper steps are being taken to insure that the institution and its faculty will never again be deprived of its academic freedom.

Only in this way, by a courageous faculty ultimatum, can the University of Nebraska attempt to regain its stature publicly and professionally as an institution which not only protects its faculty from external assaults and internal defections but contributes in word and deed to the climate of the independent mind and the atmosphere of a free university.

Power Situation

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Our public power set-up is a topic of vital importance to all Nebraskans. At the time the present cost-of-service contracts were signed in 1949 it was mutually agreed that the NPPS would continue to be the generation and transmission agency to supply the requirements of the 27 rural in the area and the Consumers district. The contract the Consumers executed in 1946 to purchase all its power from the NPPS until 1972 was not modified in these respects.

When the 1946 contract was executed, the Consumers transferred to NPPS the major generation stations acquired from the privately owned utilities. This confirmed the principle that NPPS should be the generation and transmission agency and that Consumers, the rural and municipals would be primarily retail agencies.

Power requirements continued to increase and in 1952 it was apparent a new steam plant and transmission facilities would be needed by 1956. It was proposed to construct this in the vicinity of Beatrice at a cost of approximately $25 million. The planning board early in 1953 recommended to the NPPS management that immediate steps be taken to get the plant under way.

Under provision of the rate resolution the work or plans for financing could not go forward without budget board approval. Several of the rural systems were provoked by the refusal of their representatives to vote for the resolution. In their opinion, the situation required unanimity of action, not division.

On January 27, 1954, Consumers' board adopted a resolution directing its management to proceed with the construction of a new plant which would be integrated with the NPPS transmission network for the present. Faced with the obligation to supply their customers' requirements the NPPS proceeded with plans to finance and build the plant. There were objections on the 4 per cent interest NPPS would have to pay on bonds, such objections being that the rate was excessive. The NPPS bond rating wasn't as good as they or the rural would have liked, consequently interest was high. This was the reason also given by the Consumers for their unwillingness to go along. It is the belief of many that had Consumers not fought the construction by NPPS, the interest rate would have been lower.

The threat of a law suit and the "information meeting" held in New York by Consumers just prior to the date for selling NPPS bonds had a disastrous effect. The bonds were never sold, the Beatrice plant had to be abandoned. Later the Tri-County came to the rescue and proposed building the plant near Lexington. This is being built with a loan from the REA. Again electric users of the state were saved from a severe power shortage by the willingness of the rural to co-operate with the NPPS.

Since the Supreme Court's decision a year ago, many incidents have confirmed the belief of NPPS and others that Consumers is determined to withdraw from NPPS and if possible build competing generating facilities and a duplicating transmission network. One of the latest of these events is their announcement they intend to build the Fort Randall-Nebraska 230 KV line. After this would later come several generating plants and high voltage transmission lines.

It is the opinion of competent engineers as well as NPPS officials that such a move by Consumers would be disastrous to unified public power in the state.

Thank You

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: We wish to thank the individual members of the school systems of Lincoln and Lancaster County for the efficient manner in which schedules were carried out in conducting the recent polio clinic at the Lincoln-Lancaster County Health Department from October 14 to 21.

Special note should be made of the unstinting service given by 45 members of the Lincoln Parent Teachers Association; six members of the Home School Association of Catholic Parochial Schools; 27 student nurses from Bryan Memorial, St. Elizabeth and Lincoln General Hospitals; five registered nurses from the Lincoln-Lancaster County Red Cross; and 33 nurse aids, Gray Ladies, and volunteers from the Lincoln-Lancaster Red Cross.

In addition to the six regular members of the nursing staff of the Health Department, there were 127 volunteers who gave almost 400 hours of their time to make the clinic a success.

FAUBUS: MOVES COULD LEAD TO MEDIATION

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Gov. Orval Faubus said Thursday "certain moves are underway" which could lead to mediation on the Little Rock integration dispute. Faubus said that he did not expect these "moves" to produce any new developments "in the next week or 10 days."

"There is a definite possibility that there will be a change in the attitude of the (Eisenhower) administration," Faubus said. "There are certain things that lead me to hope that there will be a change."

Asked what he meant by "certain things," the governor said: "Public opinion, public sentiment."

All, Not Part
Faubus said that he was "not adverse" to accepting the National Guard back under his command. He made it plain that he would be willing to accept all of the Guardsmen who have been federalized by the government but is not willing at this time to accept only part of them.

The governor said U.S. Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell was "the major factor" in the decision of the Eisenhower administration to send federal troops here to enforce racial integration.

Faubus said, "The FBI, under Brownell, has become a political arm rather than the impartial enforcement agency that it had been in the past."

Until Late
An another point in his news conference, Faubus remarked, "up until the last three or four years,

I had never heard the integrity or impartiality of the FBI questioned."

Eight of the nine Negro students attending Central High went into the building Thursday without a military escort. The ninth student was absent, reportedly because of illness.

Before Wednesday either an officer or a detail of soldiers had escorted the Negroes to and from the school building.

The Negroes still are being driven to and from Central High in an Army station wagon.

U.N., Marking Its 12th Birthday, Gets Mixed Praise, Blame

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. celebrated its 12th birthday Thursday by parading its infant army in Gaza and receiving praise and blame from kings and commissars.

Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld called the U.N. "imperfect and experimental... but a significant step toward a better organization of human society."

India's Prime Minister Nehru told a U.N. Day gathering in New Delhi: "But for the U.N., there would have been one or two major wars in the past 12 years."

U.S. Attack
The Russians—condemned by the U.N. for crushing the Hungarian revolt—seized on the anniversary to say in the newspaper, Pravda:

"It seems that some American political circles have decided that the U.N. as an international organization should be turned into a subdivision of the U.S. State Department."

In the troubled Middle East the U.N. emergency force marched in review before its Canadian commander, Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns.

Henry Cabot Lodge, chief U.S. delegate, noted that the U.N. had helped in the Hungarian and Middle East crises. "To carry out our own foreign policies under the aegis of the U.N. helps America directly, as we then get credit for practicing altruism instead of power politics," Lodge said.

Two States
More than 8,500 towns and cities in the United States held some sort of U.N. celebrations. Only the state governments of Virginia and Mississippi failed to take any official notice of U.N. Day.

President Tito of Yugoslavia used his U.N. message to call on the big powers to compromise on disarmament, while Ceylon's Prime Minister S. R. W. Bandaranaike called for the admission of Red China to the U.N.

Stanton Delaplane's POSTCARD

A hazy day on the twenty-third floor of the Beekman Tower, New York city.

On a day like this, New Yorkers say it is "overcast." My tearful eye it is overcast. This is genuine, imitation Los Angeles smog.

Nobody knew about smog before Los Angeles discovered it. New LA is worried but slightly set up about its smog. It is an up-and-coming city.

Most of the talk around New York is about the satellite Sputnik. A slew of Sputnik jokes are going around—for if there is one thing you have to be in the Big Town, it is up to date.

Not funny. Just current. I cannot remember any of the satellite jokes.

However, up in Schenectady, Dr. Thomas Rinaldi has his garage wired electronically. He shoots a beam from his car and the doors open.

Well, every time the Sputnik goes over, it opens the doctor's garage doors. The craziest thing you ever heard of. He has to get up and close them. By hand.

That is what it says in the New York papers anyway. I do not believe everything I read in the papers, heaven forgive me for saying so. But I admire the Schenectady correspondent.

Every time Sputnik goes over, I think his mind opens. That is my opinion.

The city of New York has 23,472 policemen, gumshoeing around and interfering with safecrackers and so on. They assigned 10,000 of them to guard Queen Elizabeth.

Some 4,000,000 people tried to look at the Queen. Among them, 1600 reporters and cameramen. The reporters were allowed only within 40 paces of the Queen.

It was better on TV. James Carroll, Lord Mayor of Dublin, was in town. I guarantee you he did not go out to look at the Queen. A Dublin Lord Mayor looking at the Queen of England could not be elected caretaker in Phoenix Park.

Scotland Yard and the FBI had 2000 gents in the crowds. Disguised as window washers, beer salesmen and other innocent bystander roles.

A 45-year-old baby sitter walked in on her charge who was brandishing a gun.

"Hand over the deed to the ranch," said the youthful Wyatt Earp. "This here gun is loaded!"

The baby sitter just laughed. For as we all know, 6-year-olds do not have loaded guns.

This one was. However, city statistics show that more people are hurt falling in bathtubs than any other way. It is safer to baby sit than to take a bath.

In a bathtub even a Queen is on her own. And all the bodyguards in the world cannot help you. Hold onto the towel rack.

These are warm autumn days in New York. A gentle wind blows in my window from the East river.

Two floors below me is the room where Laura Fair put the blast on a German consul. A love spot. She was acquitted after testifying she did not come here with the intention of scragging him—she just carried a loaded .38 in her handbag like you would lipstick.

I have never had this famous room. But I DO live in the room where the assistant manager lived who telephoned down to Teddy Farley who is now the bell captain here. She said:

"I think I heard a shot."

This was the first word heard that foreign relations were strained. And it is a heady feeling to live in such a room. On the warm autumn nights I lie awake thinking I might hear a shot. But so far have only heard a door bang in the corridor.

Board Approves Airport Project For Norfolk

A $36,000 airport improvement project at Norfolk involving new medium intensity lighting for two runways and acquisition of clear zones, won approval of the State Aeronautics Commission Thursday.

The federal government will furnish $18,000 and the city and state each $9,000.

Appearing before the Commission to speak of the project were Norfolk Airport Manager John Younghein, City Engineer Z. N. Dewey, City Administrator Greg Stuve and Chamber of Commerce Manager Ed Krueger.

Present lights are so low that they are cut off by grass in the summer and snow in the winter, the Commission was told.

Fremont Bus Line Gets Approval

The State Railway Commission Thursday authorized J. H. Hessenflow, doing business as H. F. Stages of Fremont, to operate passenger and baggage service between Fremont and Humphrey.

Hessenflow plans to operate a station wagon on the route, serving such points as Creston, Leigh, Clarkson, Howells, Dodge, Snyder, Scribner and Hooper.

Other Railway Commission actions:

Authorized Railway Express Agency, Inc. to establish free pickup and delivery service at Plainview and discontinue agency service at Holden, both effective Nov. 21.

Authorized Staplehurst Telephone Co., Staplehurst, to adjust rates and charges at Staplehurst.

Set a public hearing Nov. 29 at Creighton on application of Northern Telephone Co., Blair, for authority to adjust rates for local service at Creighton and Nebraska exchanges.

Changed from Nov. 4 to Nov. 7 the date for a hearing on application of Toronto Pipe Line Co., Dallas, Tex., for authority to build and operate a pipeline system for oil and petroleum products in Cheyenne, Morrill and Banner Counties.

Planning Group Denies 3 Requests

Three zoning applications were denied at the City Planning Commission meeting.

Commission action at its last meeting included:

1. Approved vacation of 11th street from Rich to Culbert with the exception of its intersection with Arapahoe.

2. Denied a zoning change and use permit for the extension of a trailer court, owned by Mr. and Mrs. John Hawkins at Irtalle and Stockwell in the State Hospital area.

3. Denied the request of H. R. Bookstrom for light industrial zoning on unimproved property at 2104 M. Other land in the block is under the jurisdiction of the Park Department and it was urged by the Commission that acquisition of the property by the city be negotiated with Bookstrom.

4. Denied the request of Charles A. Griffith for local business zoning of three lots on North Cotner between Webster and Morton. Additional local business, the Commission was told, would be one more obstacle to desirable growth of the single-dwelling zoned area.

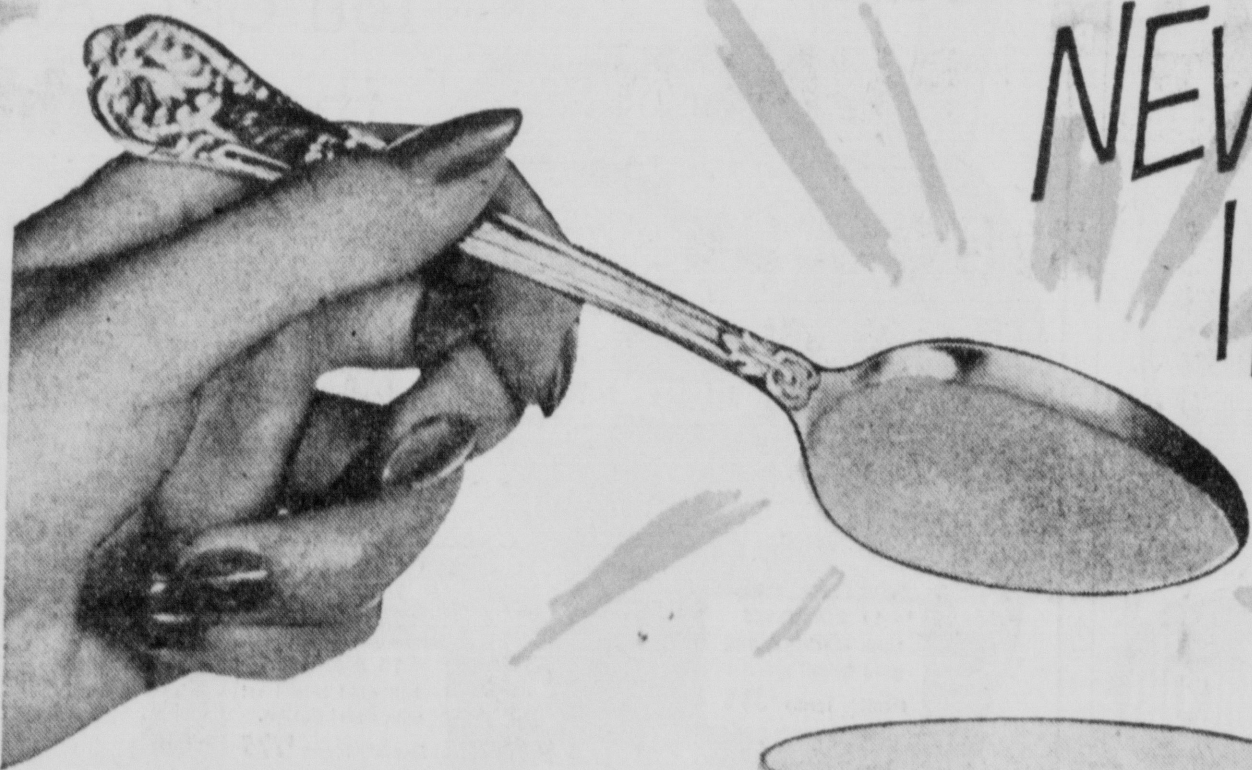

5. Requested the planning engineer to secure additional information from Max Taylor on his proposed shopping center development at 36th and Cotner Blvd.

Information sought is detailed plans for opening and paving projected N street, construction of a buffer wall along N, and residential subdivision of property north of projected N street.

TANG GIVES YOU MORE VITAMIN C THAN ORANGE JUICE!

NEW! INSTANT!

JUST MIX WITH COLD WATER

MORE VITAMINS C AND A than Mother Nature puts in orange juice—more than the finest fresh-squeezed or frozen.

REAL WAKE-UP TASTE in every drop. Never acid-y—same sunny goodness, glass after glass. So bright and right that most triers like TANG better than their regular breakfast juice!

NO SQUEEZING... NO UNFREEZING. Your TANG jar needs no refrigeration—keeps its fresh flavor stored right on the shelf.

YOU MAKE TANG FRESH—as much as you want at a time—a glass or a quart. Just mix with cold water. Add TANG to your shopping list now.

TANG

Happiest thing that ever happened to breakfast

NEW from General Foods, makers of Instant Maxwell House Coffee. TANG comes in 2 sizes—regular and family—to fill 12 or 24 glasses. Look for TANG in the Instant Coffee section at your store.

First All-Privately Financed A-Plant Is Operating

PLEASANTON, Calif. (INS) — The world's first all privately-financed nuclear power station went into operation Thursday and began—swiftly, smoothly and imperceptibly—to supply electricity to residents of northern and central California.

The historic milestone in "atoms for peace" development was reached when button-pushing technicians withdrew the control rods from a reactor near Pleasanton at 10:30 a.m., PST.

The instrumental manipulation released a chain reaction from neutron-bombarded uranium nuclei and the resultant intensive heat set water aboiling to generate steam.

The steam was fed into a huge turbine generator producing 5,000 kilowatts of power that went immediately into the transmission network of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, serving 47 California counties.

Built By GE

The start of commercial service from the Vallecitos Atomic Power Plant built by the General Electric Company was witnessed by a group of officials and newsmen, the switch that pulled the restrain-ing rods from the reactor core was thrown by Samuel Untermyer II, manager of General Electric's reactor installation.

PG&E president Norman R. Sutherland, who witnessed the launching ceremony, hailed the achievement of engineers and scientists, declaring:

"Vallecitos is an example of what this nation's private industry can do with the peacetime atom. It is the first of a great many nuclear-electric stations the industry is building throughout the nation."

Sutherland said the Vallecitos project "will hasten the day when A-plants become economical in America."

Perfectly Safe

The PG & E, which operates the turbine generator of the Vallecitos complex, hastened to assure its customers that the atomic electricity is perfectly safe. A company statement said:

"Housewives basting the breakfast eggs in northern California this morning need not suspect that their friendly electric range or skillet has become radioactive. The fact that PG&E and General Electric have begun to make power with uranium fuel—hasn't changed the electricity a whit. It is the same safe, friendly servant it always has been."

"The only difference between A-electricity and the ordinary household variety is in the fuel that heats the water at the plant, turning it into steam to spin the electric turbine generator. In conventional plants, natural gas or oil is used; at Vallecitos nuclear fission does the job."

"En route to the homes of this region, electricity from Vallecitos is being mixed with power produced in all of PG&E's 71 other generating plants."

"Not even the kilowatts themselves can tell the difference."

Sebelik Arrested

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—The Czechoslovak government announced the arrest of the former manager of the world-famous Pilsen Brewery, Jan Sebelik. He was accused of gathering military and economic information for the British intelligence service.

'TV Teaching Gives Nebraskans World's Best Physics Course'

Students in 11 eastern Nebraska high schools are getting instruction in physics possibly unequalled in quality throughout the world, according to Dr. J. Chester Swanson of University of California.

These schools are Beaver Crossing, Gretna, Holmesville, Louisville, Springfield, Thayer, Luther Academy at Wahoo, Walton, Gresham, Douglas and Raymond.

Their physics students are taking one of seven courses televised daily by the University of Nebraska station, KUON-TV, and the Extension Division.

Doctorate In Physics

Dr. Swanson, a professor of school administration who earned his doctorate degree in physics, is here to examine the University of Nebraska program of television teaching for 700 students in 26 high schools.

Commenting that the film for the physics course was financed by the Ford Foundation on practically a blank check basis, he said the instructing is done by the best physics teacher in the country.

He noted that only in Nebraska and Oklahoma are courses televised to small high schools.

Lincoln Teacher Praised

Dr. Swanson praised Esther Montgomery of Lincoln for her work in television instruction for seniors in English.

Bandits Flee Bank Holdup In Light Plane

... Two Men Nabbed

FORT MEADE, Fla. (AP)—The First State Bank of Fort Meade was robbed of $26,657 Thursday by a pair of bandits who escaped in a small private plane. Later two men were arrested at Tampa's International Airport for questioning by the FBI.

At Tampa, Sheriff Ed Blackburn identified them as Donald J. Thompson, 32, pilot for a Tampa construction company, and Irvin Suits, 26, also of Tampa.

Thompson was arrested at the airport when he returned with a company-owned Cessna plane matching the description of one used by the robbers.

Driving Charge

Suits was picked up by Tampa police late in the afternoon on a charge of driving while drinking.

Two planes were involved in the bizarre holdup. Two men who flew to Gilbert Airfield in Winter Haven stole a yellow Aeronca there and flew both planes out at the same time.

The pair who held up the bank escaped from Fort Meade in the Aeronca. It was found abandoned later in Plant City, about 25 miles east of Tampa and 30 miles north of Fort Meade.

Deputy Sheriff Hamp Rogers of Polk County fixed the amount taken at $26,657.

Star Fades

BALTIMORE (AP)—They call it the "Star of Canton," and it's going out for the first time since the early 1940s. The brilliant jet of flame has burned beside a 225-foot tower of a refinery in the Canton section of the city. Fuel manufacturing processes are being stopped at the plant now, and the "star" will burn no more.

Sputnik Taught U.S. Lesson, Officials Told

FALLS CITY, Neb. (AP) — The Russian Sputnik has taught the U. S. a valuable lesson, Sen. Roman Hruska said in a talk before the Southeast Nebraska County Officials Assn. convention Thursday.

That lesson, he said, is the realization the U. S. is dealing with a formidable enemy in Russia.

Hruska added that although Russia scored a psychological victory with the Sputnik the satellite has no military significance whatever and in his opinion this country is still basically ahead in development of guided missiles.

PTA Group Backs Sales, Income Taxes

OMAHA (AP)—The executive committee and board of managers of the State Parent-Teachers Assn. decided to ask the state convention next April in Lincoln to support a general state income tax and a sales tax.

These, the group said, should be used to replace the property levy of the state and replace in part the local levy for schools.

Other objectives outlined by the group were:

Provide adequate financial support from state funds for efficiently organized school districts;

Provide a system of school districts in which each offers a well rounded program;

Enable the state to continue aid to dependent children until age 18, provided they are in school in conformity with the federal assistance act;

Raise requirement for regular teacher certificates to a minimum of four years of college.

Mayor And Wife Share Honors At Osmond Festivities

OSMOND, Neb. — Mayor Casper Theisen and his wife shared in festivities in this community during dedication of a new strip of paving.

A testimonial banquet honored Mayor Theisen, who has held that post for many years and is a leading figure in this area's progress.

Rep. R. D. Harrison (R-Neb.) of Norfolk served as toastmaster. Main speaker at the event was Mrs. Hazel Abel of Lincoln, former U.S. Senator.

Mayor Theisen heads one of the state's largest contracting firms. He has carried on extensive farming and cattle feeding operations.

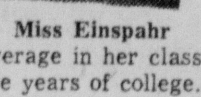

A 12.2-mile stretch of new concrete on Highway 26, between Osmond and Plainview, was dedicated.

Dr. G. E. Peters of Randolph served as master of ceremonies at the ribbon-cutting ceremony at the intersection of Highway 20 and the main business street in Osmond.

Teachers' Meets Attract Over 13,000

U.S. Chamber Attacked For School Stand

By The Associated Press
Nebraska teachers are getting some advice on why Johnny misbehaves.

Dr. Oliver Byrd of Stanford University, Palo Alto, Calif., told the District 3 teachers convention at Norfolk that behavior problems of normal children are due to failures to satisfy certain emotional needs of the children.

Dr. Byrd listed eight emotional needs:

Affection, security, acceptance as an individual, self-respect, achievement, recognition, independence and authority.

Dr. Byrd is a health education expert and physician and surgeon. Some 13,000 Nebraska public school teachers were attending the conventions at Omaha, Lincoln, Grand Island, Sidney, Holdrege and Norfolk.

Grand Island

Speaking at Grand Island, Dr. William G. Carr, executive secretary of the National Education Assn., declared, "It might be a well-deserved tribute to an eminently successful lobby if we would agree to rename the schools that offer half day sessions 'U.S. Chamber of Commerce schools.'"

Carr said that "many thousands of children will receive half-day schooling" as the result of a U.S. Chamber's attack on President Eisenhower's school construction program. The program failed to win Congressional approval.

Holdrege

At Holdrege, Nebraska State Education Association Field Representative W. T. Semard of North Platte said the national association is aiming at teachers salaries ranging from a minimum of $5,000 to a maximum of $11,500.

The District High School Activities Assn. elected Ed Nelson of Red Cloud to a three year term on the management committee, and picked Merlin Mennagh of Culbertson to fill a vacancy on the same committee.

Dr. Carleton Roger, Methodist minister from Elgin, Ill., was a speaker at the Holdrege meeting.

Omaha

In Omaha, a Texas education official warned that the United States is in danger of becoming "a nation of intellectual goosesteppers."

Miss Waurine Walker, director of teaching relations and certification at the Texas Education Agency, said school pupils "must be taught to think for themselves if we want to have the kind of progress that comes from new ideas."

She told some 4,000 teachers that "there seems to be a growing hesitancy to give expression to new ideas," adding: "People are afraid to speak frankly for fear of being labeled an intellectual or egg-head."

Sidney

A vital need for time and aloneness in modern day America, for both citizens and educators, was cited Thursday for teachers attending the district convention at Sidney by Dr. Harold Taylor.

The president of Sarah Lawrence College described the teaching profession as a "fascinating life of intellectual and moral commitment."

Registration of teachers at Sidney was reported over 1,000.

We're guessing that it's a toss-up whether Mr. and Mrs. John H. Wiebe dusted off the largest welcome mat for their son-in-law and daughter, Lt. and Mrs. William E. Shainholtz, or for their young grandson, Jeff, when they arrived a few days ago.

Lt. Shainholtz and his family leave today to return to their home at Ft. Polk, La., after dividing their two weeks leave between Lt. Shainholtz' parents in Omaha, and Mr. and Mrs. Wiebe.

Mrs. Shainholtz will be remembered as the former Judy Wiebe, Delta Gamma at Nebraska.

THE STAR IN SUBURBIA

Kessler Heights and South Hills residents come to the forefront this morning with news concerning a family reunion, a coffee or two, a sprinkling of visitors in the area, and a bit of Halloween fun.

KESSLER HEIGHTS

We'll start off the morning with an introduction to a very new resident of the area. Miss Jacqueline Kay Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Smith, made her premiere appearance at Lincoln General Hospital on Saturday, Oct. 19. Jackie has a sister, Jody, and three brothers, Jim, Jeff and Bill.

The young lady's paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Fran Smith of Omaha and Mr. and Mrs. John Olson of Livermore, Ia., are the maternal grandparents. Mrs. Olson, incidentally, arrived in our suburb on Sunday for an extended visit.

Speaking of out of town visitors we are reminded that Mr. and Mrs. A. Marylander of Colorado Springs, Colo., arrived in Kessler Heights on Monday for a short stay at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Kushner.

Several Kessler Heights as well as Lincoln residents joined in the fun at a pre-Halloween hobo party for which Mr. and Mrs. Roger Kruse were host and hostess at their home on Tuesday, Oct. 22. Included among the Halloween revelers were Mr. and Mrs. Conway Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Claypool, Mrs. Jeff Withrow, Mrs. Marshall Lutgen, Mrs. LaVerne Cacek and Price May.

Turning to news of the trusty old coffee cafe we learn that Mrs. Tom Larsen entertained friends at an informal morning affair on Thursday when she had as her guests Mrs. James Ahlquist, Mrs. William Shainholtz of Ft. Polk, La., Mrs. William Sieboldt, Mrs. Joseph Gordon, Mrs. Mike Lawlor, Mrs. Ron Clark and Mrs. Darrel Lowell.

On Friday morning, Oct. 18, Mrs. Jeff Withrow was hostess at a coffee held at her suburban home. Among the guests were Mrs. Jerry Ranne, Mrs. Gerald

WELL—we have news this morning concerning interesting people who do interesting things—For instance there is Mrs. E. H. Polley who is back in town after four months of opera, and music festivals, plus considerable sight-seeing and a variety of activity in Europe.

Mrs. Polley and Mrs. A. W. Richardson left Lincoln early in June for Lisbon, and after devoting a month to Spain and Portugal, went on to Italy where there was plenty of music to be had in Rome, Milan and a number of other Italian cities. The travelers traveled the entire length of Yugoslavia, attending music festivals, and also were present for the Salzburg Festival, and the music festival in Bayreuth, Bavaria. There was time spent in England—and there were days in Helsinki, and also in the Scandinavian countries.

Mrs. Richardson, we hear, returned to Paris from the Norse countries, and plans to sail for home on the Queen Mary some time in November. During her stay in Paris Mrs. Richardson has frequent visits with her niece, Mrs. Thomas Wells (the former Anne Bunting Heriot), Col Wells, and their family, who are residing in Versailles where Col. Wells is stationed.

Before returning to Lincoln Mrs. Polley spent some time in New York where she visited relatives and friends—and stopped in Detroit for a visit with her niece, Mrs. Ira Reindel and Mr. Reindel.

UNDERSTAND that Mrs. E. Sheldon Hallett is to be a coffee hostess at her home this morning when she entertains the women who were in the top 10 of the Community Playhouse ticket selling campaign. Invited for the 10:30 o'clock party are Mrs. Russell Trotter, Mrs. Lyle Hans, Mrs. Leo Hill, Mrs. Merle Hale, Mrs. H. K. Dutton, Mrs. H. O. Werner, Mrs. Walt Mitchell, Miss Loree Armstrong, Mrs. Willis Hecht and Mrs. R. R. Schermerhorn.

THERE'S nice news about Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hamilton and their two children, Martha Elizabeth and John, this morning. Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton have moved to Lincoln from Indianapolis and have purchased a home at 2620 Winthrop Rd. The four Hamiltons arrived

Watson, Mrs. Conway Thompson, Mrs. Donald Lohrborg, Mrs. Roger Kruse, and Mrs. Paul Fridrich.

SOUTH HILLS

From Mrs. William Baker we learn this morning of a family reunion held on Sunday, Oct. 13, at the home of her aunt, Mrs. James E. McGee.

Noon dinner guests at the McGee home included Mrs. McGee's daughter, Mrs. Gordon Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Gardner, Robert Gardner, Jack Gardner of Palmyra, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hendricks of Douglas.

Joining the family group for the open house held on Sunday afternoon were Mrs. McGee's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Downard, and their daughter, Mary Lynn, her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. McGee, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Hesson, Mrs. James Retzlaff and her family, Mrs. Baker and her daughters, Mrs. and Mrs. David Hendries and family, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hafey of Spokane, Wash., and Mrs. Edna Hesson and family of South Sioux City.

last Saturday — just in time to celebrate Mrs. Hamilton's birthday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Lock. Down from Fremont to attend the family dinner party were Mrs. Hamilton's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Lock.

And just in case you don't remember—Mrs. Hamilton is the former Rachael Lock—Delta Delta Delta at Nebraska.

IT'S a long way from Denmark to South Africa to Lincoln. Miss Ingaborg Hansen made it—but not in one jump. Miss Hansen is a native of Denmark — a year or two ago she and Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Reller of Lincoln were in Victoria Falls, South Africa at the same time, they became acquainted and continued their friendship. At the moment Miss Hansen, now of San Francisco, is in Lincoln spending several days as the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Reller.

WE can't be sure just how the Rev. Samuel Beechner feels about retiring from sixty years of active ministry, but we do know that his family considers it an event well worth noting.

In fact on Sunday afternoon, between the hours of 2 o'clock and 5 o'clock, the Rev. Beechner's two sons and daughters-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Beechner and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Beechner — and his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Paine of Grand Island, will be hosts and hostesses at an open house at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Beechner.

All of the Rev. Beechner's friends are asked to attend without further invitation.

Chatter in the Corridor

A group of Lincoln High School senior girls were up bright and early on Thursday morning to attend the "come-as-you-are" breakfast for which Miss Nancy Rhodes, Miss Sandy Greeness and Miss Anita Synovec were hostesses at the home of Miss Rhodes.

Phillips, Barbara Ilg and Solveig Klaastad, an exchange student from Norway.

The innocent bystander in the picture is Pepper Rhodes who appears to be much more interested in what his young mistress and her friends are doing than he is in the camera.

BY DIANE GEIER

The Lincoln High School sophomore student council members have been elected. They are Sharon Douglas, Sherrill Geislinger, Ron Calhoun and Garry Powell. These four students will serve on the council the rest of this school year and they may run for junior membership in the spring if they choose to. The student council consists of twelve seniors, eight juniors and four sophomores. They are elected by the student body and the membership is divided evenly between the boys and the girls. Students may serve all three years if they choose to run and are elected. Student council members must have a good citizenship record and average or above scholarship.

Lincoln High traveled to Omaha North for its football game last Friday night. The team was cheered on to victory by a very enthusiastic group of students. It was an exciting game as Lincoln High upset Omaha North, 14-0. The varsity band also made the trip and represented Lincoln High in a very fine halftime performance.

Everyone was anxiously looking forward to the vacation which was on the calendar for Thursday and Friday of this week. I'm sure everyone spent the time sleeping til noon, among other things. However, the Aeolian Choir, which is the senior choir under the direction of Hugh Rangelier, was up bright and early Friday morning to sing at Pershing Municipal Auditorium as entertainment for the teachers who attended the Teachers Convention. The Thursday and Friday vacation also gave students, who needed it, a chance to recover from the issuance of the first report cards of this school year.

Monday, October 21, campaigning for County Day was begun by the juniors who filed for an office. Many of them placed posters in various places around the school and are also passing out handbills. The primary election will be held October 28. In December the students who were elected in the general election will participate in county government by spending a day at the courthouse in their respective offices. Only juniors are eligible for County Day.

At 7:30 o'clock on Thursday morning, the home of Miss Nancy Rhodes was the scene of a breakfast for a group of senior girls who had been invited to the early morning "come as you are" party. They were a sleepy group but they had a lot of fun.

Plan Saturday Wedding

Announcement is made this morning of the approaching marriage of Mrs. Grace Schmidt to Hagey B. Rea.

The wedding will be an event of Saturday morning, Oct. 26, and the 11 o'clock ceremony will be solemnized at the Westminster Presbyterian Church, with the Rev. Frederick A. Roblee reading the lines.

Following the service a wedding breakfast will be served at Hotel Cornhusker.

Mr. Rea and his bride will go to Kansas City for a honeymoon trip after which they will return to Lincoln to reside.

volve the launching of a rocket to place a small "payload" of instruments on the moon.

The publication said the President took this action Thursday morning while getting a "full briefing" on Project Far Side, the Air Force space-rocket program under way in the Pacific.

It said that as a result of the briefing, Phase I of Project Far Side—the firing of research rockets to altitudes of 4,000 miles or higher—will be extended at least another six months, costing probably less than $100,000 each.

Phase II
In addition, it said, the White House has ordered work to proceed with all possible speed on Far Side's Phase II, the rocket delivery of instruments to the moon.

There was no comment from the Pentagon, and no indication at the White House that the President had had a "Far Side" briefing. However, the President did meet with the National Security Council.

Wayne W. Parrish, president of American Aviation Publications, announced only Thursday the establishment of "Missile Week" as a companion to his other publications which include American Aviation Magazine, Missiles and Rockets Magazine and Aviation Daily.

To Tell Public
LOS ANGELES (INS)—The scientist who directed firing of a record-shattering Air Force rocket studied the results of that test Thursday and indicated that the revealing details probably will be made public.

Dr. Morton Alperin, director of Project Far Side which hurled an "instrument package" to an altitude of perhaps 4,000 miles, probed painstakingly through data recorded by telemetering gear.

The films, magnetic tapes and other devices carried aloft by the space pioneering rocket are expected to shed new light on the mysteries of the universe.

Dr. Alperin said he expects to spend the entire day analyzing the data. He said he will give the results to Brig. Gen. Frank Gregory, commander of the Air Force Office of Scientific Research, at Washington, D.C.

The scientist said that if the military approves, he will give the details to news media, probably Friday.

'Fake Stunt'
REDLANDS, Calif. (AP)—A scientist participating in the U.S. Far Side rocket program says Russia "could very well have pulled off a fake stunt" when it launched the earth satellite.

Charles E. Bartley said that although the Russians used the Sputnik launching to support claims to an intercontinental ballistic missile, the satellite could have been launched from a high-flying balloon, just as the United States' Far Side rocket was launched recently in the Pacific. The Far Side Rocket, it was announced, may have soared to a record height of 4,000 miles or more.

Bartley gave his evaluations to 15 scientists from the University of Redlands at a meeting Tuesday night. His remarks were made public Thursday.

Landmark Sites to Be Suggested
Dr. W. D. Aeschbacher, director of the State Historical Society, said Thursday he will present suggested locations for Nebraska's historical land markers at the next meeting of the Historical Landmark Committee.

Dr. Aeschbacher, co-ordinator of the Committee whose other members are State Engineer L. N. Rens and Chief of Nebraska Resources C. V. Price, said no date has been set for the next meeting, but that it will be held in the next few weeks.

Established by the 1957 Legislature, the Committee was created to organize and direct a statewide program to bring attention to historical sites in Nebraska.

The Society director said the Committee probably will select at its next meeting the size and type of land markers to be used in the program.

Bandleader Says Report Of Fight In Mexico False
HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Bandleader Ray Anthony Thursday night denied a report that he was involved in a fist fight with an unidentified Mexican at the Mexican resort town of Acapulco.

The report, attributed to the Mexican newspaper, Ultimas Noticias, said that Anthony mixed with an unnamed opponent after the latter made a slurring remark about the neckline of a dress Anthony's wife, actress Mamie Van Doren, was wearing.

Anthony said in Hollywood: "Either the newspaper was completely mistaken in its identification or someone is impersonating us."

"Mamie has been doing two shows a night at the Riviera Hotel in Las Vegas since Oct. 3 and I spent all last night—the night the fight is supposed to have occurred—recording for Capitol Records."

Woman Slain, Pastor Hurt In Kidnaping
NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A 57-year-old church secretary was slashed to death and a pastor slashed, bound and gagged Thursday by a dark-skinned man who kidnaped them and demanded money for his sick son.

The kidnaping occurred as the 69-year-old pastor prepared to take his secretary to her home after a night service at their Canal Street church in the mid-city section.

The Rev. Martin W. H. Hollis told officers the man slid into the front seat by Miss Maud Lind as they got into his new car, a gift of the congregation of St. John Evangelical Lutheran Church.

He pointed a gun at Miss Lind and ordered Hollis to drive "where I tell you."

A three hour terror ride through the nearby City Park section followed. It ended only four blocks from the church where the kidnaping occurred. The church worker was tortured and her throat slashed.

Throat Cut
The pastor, his throat cut and head beaten, attracted the attention of nearby residents by pressing his car horn with his foot.

After treatment in a hospital, Hollis asked and received police protection from the killer. He said the man apparently left the parked car believing he was dead.

Hollis said after he drove about 20 minutes the bandit made him stop the car. He pointed the gun at Hollis and demanded his money.

"I hate to do this to you," he said. "But I need money. My little boy is sick. My family comes first."

Hollis surrendered seven one dollar bills from his wallet.

Later, the bandit stopped the car again, killed Miss Lind and slashed the minister across the throat and beat him. Then the man fled.

LANDMARK SITES TO BE SUGGESTED

Dr. W. D. Aeschbacher, director of the State Historical Society, said Thursday he will present suggested locations for Nebraska's historical land markers at the next meeting of the Historical Landmark Committee.

Dr. Aeschbacher, co-ordinator of the Committee whose other members are State Engineer L. N. Rens and Chief of Nebraska Resources C. V. Price, said no date has been set for the next meeting, but that it will be held in the next few weeks.

Bing, Bride 'Very Happy'

Newlyweds Fly To Palm Springs Where He Has $250,000 Home

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (INS)—Bing Crosby, 53-year-old king of the crooners, ended five years of loneliness Thursday by slipping quietly into a Catholic church and marrying Kathy Grant, a slim, brunette screen beauty.

The biding "Old Groaner" and Miss Grant, who at 23, is the same age as the eldest of Bing's four sons, were united in an unheralded ceremony at St. Anne's church in Las Vegas after they had craftily steered newsmen off their trail.

None of the boys was present at the wedding. Only two close friends, Leo Lynn and Mrs. Gilbert Banks, stood up with the jubilant singer and his demure bride.

The ceremony was performed by Monsignor John J. Ryan, who told Crosby affectionately:

"You Won't Be Lonely

"Now you won't be lonely any more."

"No," replied Bing, whose first wife, former film dancer Dixie Lee, died of cancer in 1952.

The simple marriage ceremony was followed by a nuptial mass at which both Crosby and Miss Grant, who was converted to Catholicism after her romance with Crosby flowered, received communion.

Crosby then gave his autograph to two delighted altar boys, Francis Cruzza, 12, and Richard Hiegel, 11, and the "very happy" couple flew to Palm Springs, Calif., where Bing recently built a $250,000 home—his fifth house in three states.

They were welcomed to Palm Springs' postage stamp airport by a dozen newsmen and a guitar player who strummed the Wedding March and then launched into a medley of Crosby's favorite tunes.

"What can I say," Crosby grinned to the reporters. "Just say that I'm very, very happy."

Then he planted a big kiss on the lips of his bride, who murmured:

"And I'm very happy, too. I'm looking forward to seeing my new house. Bing had it built as a surprise for me."

Crosby said he and Miss Grant would stay at the sumptuous home at Silver Spurs ranch, about two miles from Palm Springs, for only two days, since he must return to work Monday.

Crosby, Miss Grant, Lynn and Mrs. Banks went to Las Vegas Wednesday. Thursday morning the multimillionaire singer and his bride-to-be slipped into the marriage license bureau.

It was the first marriage for the Texas-born actress, whom Bing once declared he had "no intention" of marrying, and the second for Crosby.

One of his first acts after the ceremony was to call his sons, who were not told in advance of their father's plans.

Gary, 23, a singer like his father, is in military service in Germany. Dennis, 21, was in Los Angeles when the marriage took place and his twin, Philip, is a student at Washington State College. Lindsay, 19, is in the Army at Fort Ord, Calif.

New Furniture Arrives At Lincoln General

Two curious young bystanders survey unloading activities of $18,000 of new furniture for the Lincoln General Hospital. The shipment, part of a $25,000 order, also prompted some 100 Lincolnites to call concerning use or purchase of the old furniture, according to Lincoln General administrator Herbert Anderson. The shipment included a new combination dresser-desk for patients, beds, lounge furniture, dressers, cribs, and straight chairs. Most of the furniture will be used in refurbishing patient rooms. Wooden furniture now in the rooms will be retained, Anderson said, but the metal type furniture—some as old as 32 years—will be auctioned off at a later date or sold for junk. (Star Photo.)

2-Year Certificate Teachers Said Not 'College Dropouts'

Students who complete requirements for a one or two year teaching certificate and then do not return to college the following fall should not be considered "dropouts" when computing attrition rates, said President Vance D. Rogers of Wesleyan University.

"Including these students in dropout computations merely serves to throw the Nebraska figures completely out of proportion when compared with the national 'dropout average,'" he said.

A majority of the one and two year teacher training students, he said, eventually return to complete a four year program.

Of 174 Wesleyan students who did not resume study this year, 35 were women who married and became housewives, 16 went to work, 26 who completed a two-year certification course are teaching, a study by the university disclosed. Others quit because of illness or lack of money. Some transferred to other schools for specialized training, the survey showed.

The university was able to discover the reason why all but 46 of the 174 dropouts were not at Wesleyan this fall.

Pharmacists To Meet Here

The Nebraska Pharmaceutical Assn. plans a Saturday evening meeting at the Smith Dorsey Co. auditorium in Lincoln preceding the third annual "pharmacy airborne" project.

Leaving Lincoln Sunday morning by plane will be a group of NPA directors and members, Gov. Victor Anderson and representatives of pharmacy colleges and drug wholesalers.

They will attend meetings for pharmacists in Grand Island, McCook, Scottsbluff, North Platte and Norfolk and then go to Omaha Monday afternoon.

At the Omaha meeting, besides Nebraska pharmacists from the area, will be members of a district Boards and Colleges Assn. from Iowa, North and South Dakota and Minnesota as well as Nebraska.

Making the plane trip, besides Gov. Anderson, will be:

Lee W. Jessing of Nebraska City, NPA president; Robert L. Hildebrand of York, president-elect; Cora Mae Briggs of Lincoln, secretary.

Robert E. Brooke of Hastings, M. C. Mayo of Lincoln, Edward M. Sohler and Leonard J. Variamos of Omaha, Dean S. Jolite of Norfolk and Harold B. Williams of Lexington, NPA directors; Joseph J. Carotto of Lincoln, NPA attorney.

Dr. L. D. Small, professor at the University of Nebraska College of Pharmacy; S. Pirruccio, professor at Creighton University College of Pharmacy; Edward A. Kend, Tom Shaffer and Charles H. Calandra of Omaha, Fran Nix and of Lincoln, Eugene Hevner of Fremont and Benjamin A. Smith of Indianapolis.

Plans For U.S., State-Supported Practical Nurse School Halted

Plans for a state and federal-supported practical nurses training school in Lincoln have been "rather firmly shelved" but not yet dropped, according to Herbert Anderson, president of the Lincoln Hospital Council.

Progress of the proposed school was reported at a Hospital Council meeting Thursday.

The program, established and financed by state and federal funds through the State Department of Education will probably have to be carried out by some of the out-state hospitals, Anderson indicated.

Outstate Hospitals Possible

The council felt that outstate hospitals who do not have professional nurses training schools could initiate practical nurses schools, Anderson said. At present only Omaha has a practical nurses' school.

Lincoln needs a practical nursing school badly," Anderson said, "but it is not in a position to offer enough clinical experience for both a professional and practical nursing training school at this time."

A school has been proposed to the Kearney board of education but they have not yet indicated their willingness, according to Howard Gorham, State Director of Trade and Vocational Education.

"Scottsbluff was also considered but declined for the same reason Lincoln did," Gorham stated.

Although the plan has been halted in Lincoln, the Hospital Council is still "actively pursuing spots in other cities," according to Stuart Mount, executive director of the Nebraska Hospital Assn.

In other action Thursday, the council initiated a move to get hospital, county health board and county medical society support in restricting hospital visitors to those 15 or older.

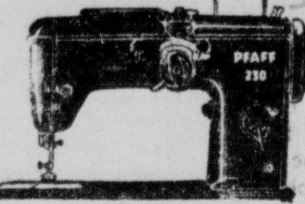

The visitor ruling is in the interest of the patient's welfare, council president Anderson explained.

Charter Unit Chairman Is Jeary

Group To Talk On Changes

Former Mayor Clark Jeary was announced as chairman of a citizens committee being formed to bring the 32 proposed amendments to the City Charter to a vote of the people.

Mayor Bennett Martin said that Jeary has agreed to head the committee and formulate its membership.

"The pros and cons of the proposed amendments should be given to the voters before an election," Martin said. "That will be the work of the committee."

"Jeary is an outstanding person for this important task because as former mayor he knows the needs of the city," Martin said. Jeary was out of town until Monday and not available for comment.

No specific number of members has been set for the special committee, but some Charter Revision Committee members would be on the new committee.

The committee members will conduct public forums and discussions of the charter amendments, the mayor explained.

Independent of Council
He said the committee would "work independently of the mayor and Council, which would be guided by the committee's recommendations as to when the amendments should go on the ballot."

Martin mentioned the possibility of the April primary or a special city election.

Final drafts of the charter revisions by the 15-member city charter committee were forwarded to the Council last April with the recommendation from Chairman Frank Williams for a special election.

NU Cagers Sick, Too

The University of Nebraska basketball team has been hit by the flu—but not in staggering quantities according to coach Jerry Bush.

Wayne Hester and Al Graves, both Lincoln cage products, suffered light attacks, but are in action. Bob Harry is still bed-ridden with the bug.

Soph Willie Fitzpatrick has been plagued by recurrence of a back injury and will be absent from drills for at least a week.

The Nebraska team will have a full-court scrimmage Saturday morning at 10 a.m. It will be open to the public.

Flu Strikes At Midgets

The midget football playoff game between Capital City champions Northeast and Leon's Market scheduled for Thursday night was postponed because of the flu.

The game, which will determine which team will play Omaha Tech champion Brandeis in the Omaha-Lincoln intercity playoffs, has been reset for next Wednesday at College View field with game time set for 5 p.m.

The winner will meet Brandeis Sunday, Nov. 3, at 3:30 p.m. while the loser will play Omaha runner-up Lamco at 2 p.m. the same day. Both games will be played at Nebraska Wesleyan's Magee Stadium.

NU Condition Best Of Year

... On Assumption Tolly Will Play

By DON BRYANT
Sports Editor, The Star

Nebraska will be in the best physical condition of the season when it tangles with Missouri Saturday.

At least that's the opinion of Coach Bill Jennings who named a 36-man traveling squad for the jaunt to Columbia.

"I think we'll be in the best shape of the year," Bill said. "But that's on the assumption that Harry Tolly will be able to play."

Tolly is slated to see action, but the first string quarterback hasn't had any contact work for two weeks and there's no way of knowing how he'll fare.

Only two key players will miss the Missouri game—No. 1 right end Clarence Cook and No. 3 quarterback Chuck Smith. End Bill Tuning and halfback Dean Flock are also laid up, but neither has seen much action.

Returning to action for the first time since the Washington State game will be ends Marlin Hilding and Ray Engel. Tolly has been sidelined since the Kansas State game.

Jennings said he wouldn't have a starting lineup set until Saturday morning.

The Huskers will not workout in Missouri Friday as announced earlier, Jennings said Thursday that the squad might drill in Lincoln before flying to Jefferson City at 11 a.m. The squad will headquarter at Jeff City Friday night.

Tigers Must Take

To Air—Broyles

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—Coach Frank Broyles said Thursday his Missouri University football team may have to depend on passes to move the ball consistently Saturday against Nebraska.

"We are going to concede a great deal in the way of weight to Nebraska," he said.

Broyles called this week's kicking sessions the sharpest the Tigers have produced since the start of the season.

Shepards Return Here

After Vacation Trip

Larry Shepard, manager of the pennant-winning Lincoln Chiefs, returned to the Capital City Thursday after a month's vacation.

Larry, his wife, Joyce, and young son, Larry Jr., visited Cleveland, New York City, Pittsburgh and Montreal, Canada, during their trip.

The Lincoln skipper, who piloted the Chiefs to two consecutive Western League pennants, will reside here during the winter.

NCAA Group Cuts Bowl List

... Three Contenders Banned, May Be More

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Assn. (NCAA) enforcement program, which has touched 41 colleges since it was inaugurated in 1952, has sharply curtailed the list of possible football bowl teams this season.

At least three possible candidates—North Carolina State, Auburn and UCLA—are on probation and banned from bowl games and post-season and Championship competition in all sports.

And there may be others before Jan. 1 rolls around. The NCAA still has 29 cases in its files and some more big schools could be slapped down.

North Carolina State, which could win the Atlantic Coast Conference championship if it gets past Duke Saturday, drew one of the stiffest penalties ever handed out by the NCAA for a basketball recruiting violation last year. The Wolfpack, with its best team since the ACC was organized, thus loses its chance to get the Orange Bowl bid in the final year of the pact between the conference and the bowl.

N.C. State not only was placed on probation for a four-year period, which won't end until November 1960, but was barred from NCAA championships and post-season games. It also was deprived of the privilege of appearing on the national football television program and of voting on NCAA affairs.

Similar but slightly lighter penalties were handed out to Auburn, unbeaten co-leader of the Southeastern Conference, and UCLA, which became a strong contender in the Pacific Coast Conference by upsetting Oregon State last Saturday.

The SEC champion almost invariably gets a bowl bid and sometimes the runner-up also is invited.

The Rose Bowl spot ordinarily goes to the PCC champion.

Also barred from bowl games and similar activities are Florida, Southern California, Washington, and Montana State, whose records indicate they wouldn't be considered anyway. The latest schools to feel the touch of NCAA penalties, West Virginia and Indiana, aren't contenders either, though they weren't barred from the bowls.

Ohio State, back in a contending spot in the Big Ten, recently was removed from probation. Oklahoma and Texas A&M, completed their terms earlier this year.

Sub For Sub Gets Big Ring Shot Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—Gale Kerwin, a sub for a sub, gets his big chance in Madison Square Garden tonight when he meets Johnny Bussio, ninth-ranking lightweight contender, in a national television 10-round.

"I intend to make the most of the opportunity," said Kerwin, a rangy, 22-year-old Canadian now living in Valley Stream, N.Y. "This is something I've been dreaming about for a long time."

Kerwin, a 5-8, 140-pounder, was elevated from the semifinal to the main event when Paolo Rosi and then Ernie "Sonny Boy" Williams of Washington, D.C., were stricken with the Asian flu. Williams became ill the day after he was chosen to replace Rosi, fifth ranking lightweight from Italy and New York.

Although Kerwin is inspired and full of hope, bookmakers made the 23-year-old Bussio the 13-5 favorite.

The New Yorker, about the same size as Kerwin, is an aggressive fighter with more experience than his rival. A pro five years, Bussio has a 30-5-1 record, including 14 knockouts. In his last two starts he whipped Larry Boardman at Boston, June 28, and dropped a 10-round decision to third-ranking Ralph Dupas in New Orleans, Aug. 30.

A pro only 3½ years, Kerwin has shown vast improvement in the last year. He has won eight of his last nine.

Third Brother Gets Invitation

LAUREL, Md. (AP)—Third Brother became the third U.S. acceptance Thursday for the Washington, D.C. International horse race Oct. 31.

Owners of the other two, Gallant Man and Round Table, haven't made up their minds definitely to race in the $100,000 mile and a half event after accepting invitations.

Third Brother is the third effort by a selection board of turf writers to line up a U.S. entry. Dedicate was hurt after being invited and Swoon's Son declined.

Third Brother, is owned by Christopher T. Cheney of Doswell, Va. He is a chubbery to Hill Prince, the top U.S. horse of 1950.

Torpid Will Bid For Triple Crown

WESTBURY, N. Y. (AP)—Torpid, the nation's leading 3-year-old pacer and winner of 36 of 40 heats gets an opportunity to wrap up the first triple crown in the sport's history Friday night in the three-heat Messenger Stake at Roosevelt Raceway.

The wonder horse, trained and driven by Johnny Simpson and owned by Max Hochberg of Irvington, N. J., is a strong 1-2 choice to capture the second heat of the Messenger — at $100,000, 3 p.m. the richest event.

Earlier this year, Torpid won the $66,951.21 Cane Pace at Yorkers and the $73,528.15 Little Brown Jug at Delaware, Ohio.

Remigino's Career Ends

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—A freak accident in a basketball game Thursday ended the competitive track career of Lindy Remigino—a gold medal winner in the 1952 Olympics.

Remigino fell and severed the achilles tendon in his left leg.

Alston, Reese Ink Contracts

... First Order Of Business At L.A.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers Thursday night announced the signing of contracts for 1958 by Manager Walt Alston and team Captain Peeewe Reese.

Vice President E. J. "Buzzy" Bavasi made the announcement at a press conference as the Dodger front office force and President Walter O'Malley completed their first full day of activity in their new home away from Brooklyn.

Alston, signing for his fifth year with the Dodgers, and Reese, signing his 16th Dodger contract, each receive in the neighborhood of $35,000.

Bavasi was asked if the "neighborhood" amounts represented a raise. He laughed and said, "No one with the Dodgers gets a raise when we lose the pennant."

O'Malley spent the day with a round of visits with city and county officials. He paid a courtesy call to Mayor Norris Poulson and a similar visit to the City Council and the County Board of Supervisors.

O'Malley plans similar off-the-record conferences with various interests involved in the transfer of the Brooklyn franchise to Los Angeles in the next few days.

Until concrete decisions have been reached in such matters as playing sites next season, little may be announced.

Alston, only man ever to manage Brooklyn to a world championship, got a one-year contract.

Reese has been with the Dodger organization as an infield star for 18 years and has been team captain for 8 years.

Business Manager Harold Parrott said in joking manner the club found so much money in the mail for 1958 tickets that it could afford to pay out the salaries of Alston and Reese as of today.

Parrott added that the requests for tickets, which came without solicitation, "topped anything we ever had in Brooklyn."

Printed blanks for ticket applications will be made available tomorrow at a number of outlets in this area for the 1958 season.

White and Co., on the move again at the end of the third period, rolled 71 yards to score in four plays. The big play was White's 60-yard pass to end Whitey Jordan.

Jordan caught the ball on the 15 but dropped it at the 1 as both he and the ball went out of bounds. Fullback Rudy Hayes popped it over on the next play. White converted.

Geese Population Rising In State

By The Associated Press
Northern ducks and geese were riding northerly winds into Nebraska Thursday.

Teel and other early birds were moving out.

The State Game Commission reported the goose population had started to build up at Gavins Point on the Missouri River. The geese were also moving in along the Platte River and in the Fremont area.

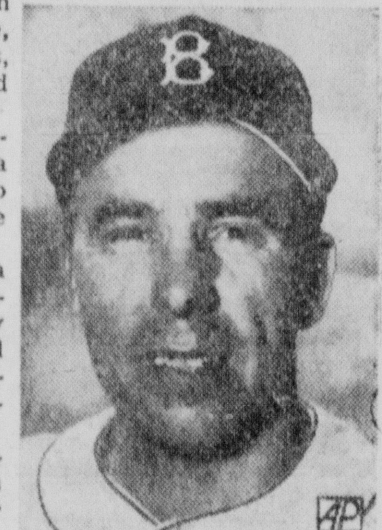

Game commission men spotted flights of Canadian geese over Lincoln Thursday and both snow and Hutchinson geese were evident around Columbus.

The arrival of canvas back ducks in the Alliance area was reported.

Sand hills cranes were numerous around Bassett and along the Platte River.

Clemson Stuns Gamecocks

COLUMBIA, S. C. (AP)—Clemson's sophomore-studded second unit, led by quarterback Harvey White, blasted South Carolina for two touchdowns and an upset 13-0 win here Thursday.

The unexpected Atlantic Coast Conference victory before a record "Big Thursday" crowd of 44,500 in the teams' 55th State Fair meeting also featured top defensive work by Clemson's first string unit, headed by end Ray Masneri.

White ran for 21, passed to halfback Bill Mathis for 28 and caught halfback Sonny Queensberry with a 15-yard touchdown throw in an 86-yard march just before the half ended.

White and Co., on the move again at the end of the third period, rolled 71 yards to score in four plays. The big play was White's 60-yard pass to end Whitey Jordan.

Link Reserves Blank Islanders

GRAND ISLAND—The Lincoln High reserves scored a touchdown in the first period and then polished up on defense the rest of the way to take a 7-0 victory over the Grand Island reserves here Thursday.

Greg Ortiz set up the Link touchdown with a pass to Stan Fraley and Pete Ortiz scored from four yards out. Ortiz got the extra point.

The victory gave coach Dick Beechner's club a 3-1 season mark. The Links see action Monday against Boys Town.

Upsetters Must Stay 'Up' This Week

By HUGH FULLERTON Jr.
The Associated Press

Any football coach will say that one of his hardest tasks is keeping a team "up" for two big games in succession, especially if the first has brought a smashing success. Another tough one is facing a good team that is eager to get back after losing by an upset.

These two situations present special problems for the master-minds at a dozen or more major colleges this week end.

Illinois, Purdue, Texas, Virginia, Colgate and UCLA were the winners in a few of the notable upsets last Saturday. Numbered among the angry losers were Michigan State, Minnesota, Oregon State, Arkansas, Princeton, Penn State and Pittsburgh. Most of them come up against opponents that would be troublesome even under ordinary circumstances.

Illinois, which knocked mighty Minnesota out of a share of the Big Ten lead, runs into Michigan State, which lost first place in the national ratings when it was flattened by Purdue. That means a double headache for Illinois Coach Ray Eliot. Besides trying to hold his team at the peak of efficiency, he has to cope with an aroused Spartan outfit that looks swifter and stronger than the Illini.

UCLA, winner over defending Pacific Coast Conference champion Oregon State, encounters another Rose Bowl contender, Stanford, Texas, which knocked Arkansas off the Southwest Conference peak, tackles Rice, Colgate, a real surprise winner over Princeton, meets another Ivy League rival, Yale and Virginia, victor over Virginia Tech, now has to deal with powerful Army.

Only Purdue has a comparatively soft assignment and even that could become hard. The Boilermakers encounter Miami of Ohio, a small but high-scoring team from the Mid-American Conference.

Michigan, one of several Big Ten title contenders, is due to feel Minnesota's comeback effort in their traditional struggle for the Little Brown Jug. Arkansas also had a game of traditional importance, its annual clash with Mississippi, unbeaten leader of the Southeastern Conference.

Pitt, soundly and rather unexpectedly trounced by Army, goes against Notre Dame, winner over the Cadets the previous week. Penn State, loser to Vanderbilt in an intercollegiate surprise, comes up against Syracuse, which hopes to displace Army as Eastern leader. Princeton plays a speedy but unsteady Ivy League rival, Cornell.

Oregon State likely will atone for its defeat against much-beaten Washington and Virginia Tech will take it out on Florida State.

Three of the top five teams in the reshuffled national ratings have difficult assignments. Oklahoma, back in the No. 1 spot, meets Colorado, usually its strongest rival in the Big Eight, Texas A&M, No. 2, meets Baylor and Duke, No. 4, plays tied but unbeaten North Carolina State in a game that may decide the Atlantic Coast Conference race. Iowa (3) plays Northwestern and Auburn (5) meets Houston.

Other standout games include: EAST—Penn-Navy; Harvard-Dartmouth; Brown-Rhode Island, Columbia-Lehigh, Boston University-Holy Cross. SOUTH—Miami-Kansas (Friday), Maryland-Tennessee, Tulane-Georgia Tech, Florida-Louisiana State, Kentucky-Georgia, Alabama-Mississippi State, Wake Forest-North Carolina, VMI-George Washington, West Virginia-William and Mary. MIDWEST—Wisconsin-Ohio State, Indiana-Villanova, Missouri-Nebraska, Iowa State-Kansas State, Marquette-Texas Christian, Detroit-Detroit College, Cincinnati-College of Pacific, Tulsa-Air Force. SOUTHWEST—West Texas-Hardin-Simmons, Arizona-Texas Tech. FAR WEST—Utah-Wyoming, Brigham Young-Idaho, Montana-New Mexico, Colorado State-Utah State, Oregon-California, Southern California-Washington State, Idaho-Fresno State.

Bornastar Grabs Spinster Stakes

LEXINGTON, Ky., (AP) — J. Graham Brown's Bornastar, a 9-1 shot, won the first renewal of the $76,000 Spinster Stakes Thursday at Keeneland, beating favored Pucker Up by two lengths.

The 4-year-old daughter of Alibhai raced the 1 1/4 miles in 1:49 1-5. Jockey Ken Church sent her to the front entering the stretch and she closed strongly. No reason was announced for Church's replacing Willie Hartack, who was scheduled to ride Bornastar.

Searching was third and Bayou fourth.

Bornastar paid $20.80 and $3.20, with no show betting. Pucker Up, coupled with Beaulillon in the betting, returned $2.20.

Scudero May Be Out

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two-way half-back Joe Scudero may be unable to play for the Washington Redskins against the Giants at New York next Sunday.

Scudero, who has taken a turn on offense in addition to working at safety on defense, hurt a leg while the Redskins were losing to the Chicago Cards last Sunday.

Rookie halfback Jim Podoley injured an elbow in the same game but will be ready for duty as the Redskins seek to offset a 24-20 loss to the Giants earlier this month.

Garden State Entry Hopes For Rich, Lucky Saturday

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — A young inventor who names his horses after his children and friends, hopes Saturday, Oct. 26, is as lucky a day for him as was Saturday, Oct. 19.

George Lewis, who with his wife operates the George Lewis Stables, saddled two horses in different divisions of the split Garden State Trial last Saturday. One, Martin's Rullah, named for the Lewis' son, Martin, won his section in a driving finish.

The other, Music Man Fox, named after Harry Fox, New York agent in the music business, finished in a deadheat for first in the second division of the trial. Both colts are entered Saturday in the Garden State Stakes, the richest horse race in the world.

Lewis, a 35-year-old native of Baltimore who invented a process of moulding plastic boots, feels sure that one of his two-horse entry will upset the experts and romp home with the top slice of the $275,150 gross purse of the Garden State. Top money, based on 12 starters, would amount to a cool $156,332.50.

Second money in the mile and a sixteenth event at Garden State Park just across the Delaware River from Philadelphia isn't anything to sneeze at. The place horse in this jackpot for 2-year-olds get $55,332.50. Third money is worth $36,272.50 and fourth amounts to $13,272.50.

Lewis has left nothing to chance in priming his pair of colts for the Garden State. He placed them in the hands of trainer Willie Moller, three times national training champion.

As things look now, the field should consist of 12 starters, with the possibility of a 13th if the track is fast. Trainer Joe Kulina said Thursday he plans to enter Colonial Farm Fairfield if the going is good. Fairfield, a bay colt by Daumier and Calaneo, graduated from maiden ranks last month at Atlantic City. The long distance weather forecast is for a clear, cold day Saturday. Although it rained hard here Thursday and was expected to continue wet through today.

American League Attendance Figures Show Big Increase

CHICAGO (AP)—American League attendance this baseball season jumped almost four per cent over last year and, for the seventh time in the past decade, reached over the eight million mark.

Total home attendance for the eight league clubs was 8,196,218, compared with 7,893,683 last year, AL publicist Earl Hilligan disclosed Thursday. That was an increase of 302,535 or 3.8 per cent.

Although the champion New York Yankees led all clubs with attendance of 1,497,134, the runner up Chicago White Sox turned in the biggest increase over the previous year, 135,578, with a fourth-place total of 1,135,668. The Yankees increased 5,350 over last year.

Second in total attendance were the Detroit Tigers with 1,272,346, followed by the Boston Red Sox with 1,181,087. The Tigers picked up 221,164 this year and the Red Sox increased 47,929.

Fifth behind the White Sox were the Baltimore Orioles, who climbed 128,380 to a total of 1,029,581.

Of the three clubs which finished under the one million mark, only the last place Washington Senators had an increase over the previous year. Washington had 25,432 more patrons, but still wound up with a tailend total of 457,079.

The Kansas City A's slipped 114,087 to 901,067, while the disappointing Cleveland Indians dropped 143,211 to 722,256. Since the season closed, the Indians replaced Kerby Farrell with Bobby Bragan as field manager and Greenberg.

The record American League attendance was 11,150,099 in 1948. The league's 10-year average (1948-57) is 8,811,899.

The White Sox made the biggest increase in road attendance, 127,436 for a total of 1,183,271. However, the champion Yankees were a top road figure of 1,838,434, were close behind in surpassing 1956 with an increase of 123,896. The Red Sox upper their road attendance 85,391, to finish second behind the Yankees with a total of 1,136,984.

The league's 225 night games drew 3,889,023 fans for an average of 17,235. In 1956, the loop played 226 nocturnal contests before a total of 3,663,391 for an average of 16,210.

Macias, Halimi Finally Meet

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Bantam-weight champion Paul "Raton" Macias of Mexico and Alphonse Halimi of France met for the first time Thursday at contract signing ceremonies for their 15-round title fight Nov. 6.

The two exchanged pleasantries as they posed for pictures, an unusual feat since neither speaks a word of the other's language.

Halimi is recognized by the world championship boxing committee as ruler of the 118-pounders. Macias is recognized by the National Boxing Assn. U.S. and Mexico.

Each fighter has been guaranteed $50,000. The scrap will be nationally televised, with Los Angeles blacked out.

Pepperdine Accepts Bid For Citricado Bowl

ESCONDIDO, Calif. (AP)—Pepperdine College of Los Angeles Thursday accepted an invitation to meet Arizona State at Flagstaff in the second annual Citricado Bowl football game here Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 28. Arizona State had previously accepted.

The game will be played in Escondido Memorial Stadium, starting at 11 a.m. It is sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and named for this area's principal agricultural products, citrus fruit and avocados.

McManus To Service

DETROIT (AP)—Jim McManus, a first baseman just added to the Detroit Tigers winter roster, notified the club Thursday he is entering the Army shortly for six months active duty.

McManus played for Birmingham in the Southern Assn. during the 1956 season. He hit .261 and drove in 60 runs. McManus lives in Boston.

Highland, Kan. at Luther Montana State at Omaha U.
Outbreaks of the flu throughout Nebraska state colleges forced postponement of three games scheduled for tonight, but six games still remain on the slate.

Two Nebraska College Conference tussles, Hastings at Peru and Midland at Wesleyan, were halted and Fairbury and McCook were postponed in Junior College action.

Chadron and Kearney hook up in a NCC contest tonight at Alliance while Doane sees league action at Wayne.

The flu has hit the Chadron squad, but coach Bill Baker promised that "we'll show up and play those who are well."

In other state college play, Scottsbluff JC hosts the Colorado State 'B' squad tonight while Luther hosts Highland, Kan. and Dana entertains Stirling, Kan. Saturday. Omaha University returns to action after being flued out against Bradley last week by hosting Montana State Saturday.

Southwest Chief Takes No Stand

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Executive Secretary Howard Grubbs of the Southwest Conference would not confirm or deny reports Thursday that the conference is investigating the recruiting of Glynn Gregory, Abilene high school football star, by Southern Methodist University.

The San Antonio Light said in a story that the conference was investigating reports of alumni aid beyond the limits in the case of Gregory, who now is playing on the freshman team at SMU. It said a "Dallas source" had informed it that an investigative agency, which has been employed to dig into rumors of assistance to athletes by over-enthusiastic alumni, was working on the case.

Boynton Shoots 66 For Hesperia Lead

HESPERIA, Calif. (AP)—Young Frank Boynton of Orlando, Fla., Thursday fired a six-under par 66 for a one-stroke lead in first round play of the $15,000 Hesperia Open Golf Tournament.

The former Florida Junior Champion collected nine birdies in posting his 33-33, a course record.

One shot back was veteran Billy Maxwell, Odessa, Tex., and two newcomers to the pro ranks, Gordon Jones, Alliance, Ohio, and Babe Lichardus, Hillside, N. J.

Bright Sets Record

REGINA (AP)—Fullback Johnny Bright of the Edmonton Eskimos has netted 1,501 yards along the ground to surpass by 61 yards the Western Football Conference individual rushing record for one season set a year ago by teammate Normie Kwong. Bright is a former Drake University player.

Hornung Definitely A Pro, But Where?

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—Paul Hornung, former Notre Dame golden boy, has earned a place in pro football with the Green Bay Packers but just where he plays apparently depends on him.

Coach Lisle Blackburn of the Packers said as much Thursday amid indications that the 22-year-old Heisman Trophy winner will see a lot more National Football League action beginning with Sunday's game with the Colts in Baltimore.

"As everyone should know by now," Blackburn said, "Hornung is a good runner. Right now, however, he doesn't throw the ball as well as our other quarterbacks, Bart Starr and Babe Parilli."

"If he can improve his passing to a point where he is close to them, there'll be no question who our quarterback will be," he added.

There has been talk that Hornung, who was considered a good All-round quarterback when he was directing the Irish, doesn't have the equipment to be a pro signal caller. A halfback, yes, but not a quarterback.

"He ran real well against the Colts before," Blackburn said. "I would say though that he runs better as a quarterback than a halfback."

Blackburn went on to say that he just wasn't sure how Hornung would be used in the Colts' game.

Perhaps Hornung himself generated some of this uncertainty by his showing in Milwaukee last Sunday against the San Francisco 49ers.

The 6-2½, 200-pound native of Louisville, Ky., gave the Packers' one of their few happy moments in a 24-14 loss to San Francisco. Inserted at quarterback late in the fourth quarter after first Starr and then Parilli floundered, the young bonus choice moved the club 59 yards in seven plays for a touchdown. Hornung himself scored on a nine-yard run with a keeper after racing 37 yards off tackle to set up the TD.

In the Packers' four games to date, Hornung has carried the ball 12 times for 30 yards, an average of 6.7 yards per try, best on the team.

During those seven plays, Hornung tried three passes and completed one for a net loss of one yard.

Prince Impressed By Grid Contest

SHEFFIELD, Eng. (AP)—Prince Philip, who went along with Queen Elizabeth to see an American football game during last week's royal visit to the United States, said Thursday night he had been highly impressed.

Addressing the centenary banquet of the Sheffield Football Club (football here means soccer), the prince said Britons have been "kicking a ball around since time immemorial" and undoubtedly started the game.

"I suspect we started American football, too," the prince said. "I had the opportunity of watching a game last week. All I can say is that it is a distant relation of soccer."

"But it is a most interesting game to watch. It is very like a military campaign."

The prince and queen sat in on Maryland's upset of North Carolina.

Witness: Firm Distributed Anti-Union Money 'Freely'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Walter J. Patterson, an agent of Nathan W. Shefferman, testified Thursday he distributed money received from the Whirlpool Co., to help influence employees to vote against joining labor unions.

He said some money was handed out "rather freely" as expense remuneration to employees at the Whirlpool plant in Clyde, Ohio, and some was distributed as loans.

Patterson told the Senate Rackets Committee he did not at the time regard this as an unfair labor practice forbidden by federal law. He said he was unaware that one of Shefferman's staff lawyers had warned Shefferman that it was illegal.

Former State Official

Patterson is a former executive secretary of the Michigan State Labor Mediation Board.

Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy has described Shefferman as a specialist in "union busting." Shefferman also has been under committee fire for acknowledged financial dealings with Teamsters Union president Dave Beck.

Before Patterson testified, the committee heard Charles Littell swear that he had served as a "labor spy" at another Whirlpool plant, at Marion, Ohio.

Littell said he was recruited for the anti-union work by Dr. Louis Checov, a psychologist on Shefferman's staff.

$20 a Week

He said that at Checov's instructions he helped organize an anti-union committee of employees and Checov gave him $20 a week for committee expenses, but sometimes he pocketed most of this. Referring to earlier testimony by Theodore Hufert, Whirlpool's labor relations director, that he knew nothing of the committee Littell described, Littell said, "he either has an awful short memory or he's not telling the truth."

Herman F. Grage Dies At Age 55

Herman F. Grage, 55, of 1315 Washington, died Thursday.

Mr. Grage, an employee of the Curtis Lumber Co., was born in Martell and had lived in Lincoln since 1936.

Surviving are his wife, Elsie; sons, Larry and LaVern, both of Lincoln; mother, Mrs. Wilhelmina Grage of Lincoln; sisters, Lena Grage of Martell, Mrs. Dora Krueger of Roca, Wilhelmina Grage of Martell, and Mrs. Bertha Ludwig of Avoca; and brothers, Henry of Hickman, Fred of Roca, William of Lincoln, and Elmer of Crete.

3 Airmen Burned In Offutt Air Field Fire Fighting Show

OMAHA (AP)—Three Offutt Air Field men were burned Thursday in a air-crash fire fighting demonstration.

They were among a crew of six who alighted from a helicopter at the site of a simulated bomber crash for which the bulk of an old B-25 had been set afire after being soaked with jet fuel.

The burned men were A-2 Weaver W. Denney, S-Sgt. John O. Thor and A-1 Paul Camp, all listed as not badly hurt.

After the crew of six landed all rushed into the flames. Shortly thereafter the three burned men backed out, their protective clothing afire. Other firefighters near the scene beat out the flames and stripped the garments off the men.

Base officials said Camp and T-Sgt. Gerald N. Redding had been "slightly burned" in a similar demonstration Wednesday.

Ben Parker Dies; Vice President Of Abstracting Firm

Ben Parker, 68, vice president of the Parker-Rieder Abstract Co., died Thursday.

He lived at the Lincoln Hotel. A Lincoln resident for 65 years, he was a native of Glenmary, Tenn.

Surviving are his daughter, Mrs. Mel Mooberry of Los Angeles, Calif.; a sister, Mrs. R. C. Middlekauff of Lincoln; and a brother, James C. O'Neill.

Big Eight Enrollment Falls Only At Nebraska, Oklahoma State

Only Nebraska and Oklahoma State reversed the trend of increasing enrollments at colleges in the Big Eight Conference, the Associated Press reported.

Total enrollment in all eight colleges increased about 2 per cent, while Nebraska suffered a 3.4 per cent decline and Oklahoma State noted a minor drop of about .5 per cent.

Colorado, Missouri and Kansas showed the best gains.

Current enrollment figures, with amount of change from last year: Oklahoma 11,459, up 153 students or 1.3 per cent.

Oklahoma State 10,546, down 59 students or .5 per cent.

Colorado 10,357, up 522 students or 5.3 per cent.

Missouri 9,862, up 410 students or 4.3 per cent.

Iowa State 9,826, up 133 students or 1.6 per cent.

Kansas 9,216, up 352 students or 4.0 per cent.

Nebraska 8,134, down 291 or 3.4 per cent.

Kansas State 6,700, up 174 student or 2.7 per cent.

Chancellor Clifford M. Hardin has attributed the enrollment drop at Nebraska to a 33 per cent tuition increase and tightened scholastic standards.

Four other schools — Iowa State, Kansas, Kansas State and Colorado — also inaugurated higher fees this fall but managed enrollment boosts nonetheless.

Tighter academic standards, making it harder for a student to enter or stay in school, were invoked also at Colorado and Iowa State.

Nebraska increased its tuition and fee cost total for resident students from $90 to $120 per semester and for out-of-state students, from $180 to $240 per semester.

It was the sharpest such increase in the conference.

Iowa State boosted resident fees from $66 to $77 per quarter; non-Iowa resident fees from $136 to $167 per quarter.

At Kansas University, resident rates climbed from $181 to $206 per semester; rates for non-residents, from $331 to $396.

Kansas State raised tuition rates for Kansans from $90 to $104 per semester; for non-Kansans, from $165 to $199.

At Colorado the tuition-fee cost for resident Coloradoans was hiked from $86 to $98; for non-residents, from $274 to $281.

Colorado's enrollment increase, largest in the conference, resulted mainly from an additional number of returning former students, according to O. W. Hascall, director of admissions and records.

Several schools noted a leveling-off or decline in the number of lower classmen, attributed in part to the lower birth rate prevailing during the period that produced this age group.

Loup Records Top 9-Month Output Mark

COLUMBUS, Neb. (UP)—The Loup River Public Power District, aided by heavy rainfall in the upper Loup valleys this year, has established the highest nine-month power production record in the last five years, district officials announced.

The first nine months of 1957 produced a total of 122,362,000 kilowatt hours, compared to a production of 104,801,000 during the same period in 1956.

This production comes from hydroelectric plants at Columbus and Monroe.

Edd Kelly, general manager of the District, said 1957 production so far, has been third highest in the 24-year history of the hydro project. In 1950 and 1951, nine-month production was 125,336,000 and 133,036,000 kilowatt hours respectively.

Midland Club Wins Contest

FREMONT, Neb.—Midland College International Relations Club members were announced as winners in a contest sponsored by the Modern Language Association of America.

They won first place among 60 entries on the topic, "What college international relations clubs think about the relation of foreign languages to international understanding." Runner-up in the contest was Siena College, Loudonville, N.Y.

Gary Marco, senior, Wolbach, Neb., prepared the winning essay answering a questionnaire sent out last spring by the Modern Language Association. Milton Holtz, Fremont, and Merton Luebke, Appleton, Wis., 1957 graduates, and Nell Teinert, York, senior, incorporated their interpretation of the questionnaire with Marco's for the winning entry.

Boy Scout Gerald Royal of Palmyra received a certificate of merit from the National Court of Honor for applying artificial respiration and saving the life of a man who leaned against an electrically charged wire screen and was knocked unconscious at the Nebraska State Fair last year.

INTERSTATE BRIDGE WORK MAY REQUIRE LAW CHANGE

... According To State Engineer Ress

Some Nebraska laws apparently will have to be changed before new Interstate Highway bridges across the Missouri River are built at Omaha, according to State Engineer L. N. Ress.

The federal government has approved an extension to the Interstate system which would link Omaha and Council Bluffs with a new bridge just north of the Douglas Street Bridge.

Interstate plans also call for a Missouri River crossing in South Omaha in the vicinity of the Municipal Stadium.

Three Restrictions

Ress said the statutory problems grow out of 1927 laws which specify these restrictions:

1. Gas tax money cannot be used to build interstate bridges. (Ress said it might be possible to provide state financing from motor vehicle license fees or special fuels tax revenue.)

2. Nebraska cannot expend more than $15,000, year of federal aid funds on interstate bridges. (That would scarcely see the project through the planning stage, Ress said.)

60% In Nebraska

3. Nebraska cannot contribute state and federal funds in excess of 50 per cent of the cost of an interstate bridge. (The present Ak-Sar-Ben Bridge in Omaha is 60 per cent in Nebraska and 40 per cent in Iowa and maintenance costs are divided on that basis. The proposed new downtown bridge might have a similar uneven distribution, Ress said.)

He Hopes Not

Asked if the governors of Iowa and Nebraska might have to get together on Interstate Highway matters, Ress said he hopes not.

"If we can't resolve any problems at a lower level than that, we're in bad shape," Ress said.

Bids Called For Hallam Equipment

...By CPPD

Consumers Public Power, District has called for bids to be opened Nov. 12 and 14 on equipment associated with the 100,000-kilowatt turbine-generator already ordered for the new Sheldon Station power plant near Hallam.

The equipment will be used first with the turbo-generator with the conventional boiler operation, to go into use in the spring of 1960. Then the equipment will be switched over and used with a sodium-graphite nuclear reactor scheduled to be test-operated in 1961 and in full operation in early 1962.

W. P. Venable, CPPD power supply superintendent, listed this equipment for which bids have been asked:

A deaerator, which will take the oxygen out of the water being fed into a huge boiler which already has been ordered.

A horizontal surface condenser, which condenses the steam back into water for reuse in the boiler, and accessories including air ejectors and condensate or water pumps.

A 120,000-kilovolt-ampere transformer, to put the generator output on the transmission lines; a 10,000-kva transformer to be used to start operations; a 7,500-kva transformer for normal plant operations.

A cooling tower to cool water before it is fed back into the condenser.

A heavy crane for the turbine room.

Russ Wheat Crop Sags

... Big Surplus On Hand

LONDON (AP)—The 1957 Soviet wheat crop is about 25 per cent below expectations, a Western diplomat estimates.

"There is no immediate danger of widespread hunger," the diplomat said, "because the Russians can fall back on stockpiles from the 1956 bumper crop."

"But let them have another bad crop next year, coming on the heels of this one, and they will be nearing real trouble."

Inefficiency

In addition to the low yield, much grain is being spoiled by inefficiency in the Soviet delivery system, the diplomat stated.

The sharp decline in wheat yield was caused by a severe late spring and summer drought in the virgin Asian lands—planting areas boosted by Communist Party Boss Nikita Khrushchev.

Soviet newspapers have reported in detail how bad scheduling of railway cars and trucks delayed grain delivery until 25 and 30 per cent of it had spoiled.

Dirty, Overheated

Pravda and Izvestia printed articles on delivery of dirty grain which was useless, or overheated grain, and of repeated cases of leaving grain lying too long on threshing house floors.

But "so much acreage is being planted in the virgin lands and the Ukraine these years that even despite waste, inefficiency, bureaucracy and drought these people will still bring in a stupendous amount of grain," the Western diplomat said.

Government Of Sweden Collapses

... Domestic Crisis

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—The Swedish government, a coalition of socialists and agrarians, collapsed Thursday in a clash over social, welfare and economic policy. It had ruled for six years.

At the same time the Swedish military headed by Gen. Mills Swedlund, the commander-in-chief, demanded that the armed forces be provided with costly modern weapons such as atomic bombs and missiles for the national defense.

Although not outwardly connected, the two things were related in a sharpening domestic crisis.

The issue has boiled down to this: Higher prices for food obtained by the agrarians to please the farmers, and higher taxes enacted by the socialists to pay for their social program have set the man-in-the-street to grumbling.

The Swedish Army, Navy and Air Force have concluded that scientific advances in warfare have gone beyond their present equipment. In effect, they demanded that the nation make up its mind between pensions and modern weapons, saying: Give us atomic weapons and guided missiles or prepare to defend Stockholm alone.

The four agrarians in the Cabinet of Socialist Premier Tage Erlander quit, leaving the socialists with a minority in the 231-member lower chamber of Parliament. The Socialists have a majority in the Senate. It is expected that King Gustaf Adolf will ask the Socialists to try to form a new government. The Socialists have been in power since 1932.

Brown Heads State Poultry Group

Roy Brown, a Blair hatcheryman, was named president of the Nebraska Poultry Improvement Association at the windup Thursday of its two-day convention in Lincoln.

Brown succeeded Don Williams of Fremont, who with Alvin Ritches of Auburn, becomes a past president on the executive board.

Other new officers are Arnold Daniel of Fremont, first vice president; Art Huse of Holdrege, second vice president, and Dorle Hayes of Cozad, treasurer.

Doyle H. Free of Lincoln was named executive secretary for his eighth year.

L. L. Parr of Broken Bow was elected a director at large for a three-year term, succeeding Sam Schwerin of Norfolk.

Larger Operation
During the morning session, the "Hatcheryman-1962 Model" was pictured as having a larger operation designed for a better control of production and less speculative raising of chickens and production of eggs.

Dick O'Connell of the American Poultry and Hatchery Federation at Kansas City, Mo., said that in five years hatcheries will be a "collecting point for eggs from the producers."

"There will be better control of production through contracts with the producers," O'Connell said. "It will make for a more constant operation with less speculative raising of poultry and eggs."

'Farmer's Place'
Another speaker, B. G. Allen, Minnesota Commissioner of Agriculture, told association members that the poultry and egg industry must fight for the farmer's place in the scheme of things.

"The small producer can only exist if the market for a quality product can be improved through co-operatives," he said.

"The farmer ought to take the position," he said, "that there are too many middlemen between the producer and consumer and fight for his rights."

He pointed out that Minnesota state laws encourage state agencies and the extension service to help form co-operatives and marketing associations.

Co-operative marketing was offered by Charles Wilcox, representative of the West Central Grain Co-operative, as a likely boost to the state's slipping egg producing business.

Nebraska does not have enough high quality eggs in volume to command a good market and increased prices, he said.

Wilcox suggested co-operative collection of eggs from a number of small producers by refrigerated trucks and marketing them in volume.

Money from producers and dealers will be needed to get the program started, he said. A Dec. 13 meeting will be held to investigate further the establishment of an egg marketing association, he added.

Approximately 350 hatcherymen and others registered for the 23rd annual meeting of the association.

Innocent Plea Entered By Vike Francis

Former Nebraska football star Vike A. Francis, 39, pleaded innocent Thursday in Lancaster County Court to a bad check charge.

Trial for Francis, who was a fullback on the Nebraska 1941 Rose Bowl team, was set for Nov. 2 and a $300 appearance bond was required. Francis was charged with "issuing a check with intent to defraud."

Involved is a $50 insufficient-fund check he allegedly wrote to the Italian Village in Lincoln on Apr. 22. The check was issued on a Salina, Kan., bank.

Francis gave an Omaha, Neb., street address to police. He reportedly recently moved there from California, where he had lived since last spring.

County Attorney Elmer Scheele had filed a felony check charge of "issuing a check with intent to defraud" against Francis, but asked permission from Judge Herbert Ronin to amend the charge to a misdemeanor. The request was granted.

Francis had been arrested in Omaha Wednesday on a Lancaster County felony check warrant.

Mystery Cobwebs Blanket Town

PORTALES, N.M. (AP)—This eastern New Mexico town was blanketed Thursday by a mysterious cobweb-like substance which fell from the sky.

The silky threads, some of them 50 feet long, draped across telephone and power lines and created a nuisance in nearby corn and cotton fields where harvest is underway.

A possible explanation for the phenomenon came from an engineer at Sandia Weapons Base in Albuquerque, who said he had heard of similar occurrences in Bakersfield and Fresno, Calif.

The engineer said it was caused by millions of minute particles of dust high in the atmosphere. The dust particles, rubbing together, cause a static charge. This, in turn, causes the dust to fall to earth in the cobweb form.

NWU Gets $5,000 For Equipment

Nebraska Wesleyan University received a $5,000 grant from the Esso Education Foundation for the purchase of physics equipment.

Creighton University, Doane College and Union College also were among institutions receiving grants totaling one and one-third million dollars from Esso this year.

LINCOLN, 3-STATE AREA RURAL MAIL CARRIERS SAFEST IN U.S.

Rural mail carriers of Lincoln and the three-state Wichita postal region are the safest in the nation for the second consecutive year.

Lincoln Postmaster O. E. Jermer has been informed by the National Safety Council that the Wichita Region, comprising Kansas, Oklahoma, and Nebraska, had the lowest accident rate among the 135 commercial fleets operating in rural areas across the nation during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1957.

The six regular and five substitute rural carriers out of the Lincoln office made an important contribution to this outstanding safety record, according to the Wichita Regional office.

Kenney Top
In recent individual award, John Kenney of Rt. 3, a rural mail carrier since 1940, received a 12-year "flawless record" award, which was top for the Lincoln Post Office.

The Wichita region's passenger car fleet, operated almost entirely by rural carriers, comprises 2,671 privately owned motor vehicles. The cars were driven 46 million miles with an average accident rate of only .097 accidents per 100,000 miles.

The average for the nation's 15 postal regions was .171 accidents per 100,000 miles.

Only four years ago, Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield rebuked his department for having the worst safety record in government and launched a program which has resulted in outstanding safety records of the present.

SOUTH KOREA WARNS OF SUBTLE COMMIE 'INVASION'

SEOUL (INS)—South Korea warned Thursday that a mounting new Communist "invasion" is in progress—an encroachment more subtle and subversive than the sudden influx of Red China's "volunteers" who smashed into Korea seven years ago.

It was on Oct. 25, 1950, that Communist Chinese troops launched a "second" Korean War at a time when the United Nations forces were within grasp of final victory over the North Korean Red invaders.

South Korean Home Minister

Kyung Keun Chang told Thursday of a "sharp increase" in the number of Red agents infiltrating and flanking the truce zone where U.N. armies had pinned the aggressor forces in July, 1953, when the armistice was signed.

534 Caught
The Home Ministry reported 534 Communist spies, saboteurs and agitators have been sent through and around the armistice line since that time. These are the known agents—the ones who were caught.

South Korean Foreign Minister Chung W. Cho declared the Communist military buildup in North Korea indicates these agents are the forerunners of renewed overt aggression.

Home Minister Chang listed Japan as one source of Communist agents and said 13 sent into Korea by Japanese Communist organizations have been captured. Thirty more have been traced directly to Communist China.

South Korean authorities believe the increase in the number of agents reflects all-out North Korean efforts to influence the Seoul National Assembly elections scheduled for May of next year.

Costly Trip
OTTAWA (INS)—The four-day visit of Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip to Ottawa cost Canada nearly $1,000,000, official sources estimated. The biggest item was $400,000 for television costs.

Funeral Saturday For Walter Locke, Former Lincolnite

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Funeral services will be held at 1:30 p.m. Saturday at the Whitmer Bros. Funeral Home in Dayton for Walter Locke, 82, senior editor of the Dayton Daily News.

Locke, editorial columnist for the Cox newspapers for a number of years, died of a heart attack at his home Wednesday night.

A form editorial writer for the Lincoln Journal, Locke had been a frequent visitor in Lincoln.

Housewife Rejects 60-Room Castle, 56,000 Dollars

EMSWORTH, England (AP)—A housewife Thursday night turned down a 60-room castle and 20,000 pounds ($56,000). She said she'd carry on with her family in their 10-room house instead.

Mrs. Anne Alington, 36, wife of a naval officer and mother of three children, was left Castle Wemyss (pronounced Weems) at Skelmorlie, Renfrewshire, by her uncle Lord Inverclyde, who died last June.

He also willed her the 20,000 pounds—on condition that she live there at least 10 years.

"It's no good," said Mrs. Alington at her home here after looking over the castle.

"My husband and I have twisted all the figures round as hard as we can, but the answer is still the same—we can't afford it."

"It's too sad for words."

Under the will the castle now will be offered in turn to each of Mrs. Alington's three younger sisters.

All three live in Scotland and none seems keen on taking over.

The first in line, Mrs. Margaret Dundas, 34, told newsmen: "I simply can't say whether I shall accept the castle."

Mrs. Heather Douglas, 32, and second in line, said: "My children are settled in Edinburgh schools. I don't think we would move."

The last—Mrs. Elizabeth Torrie, 30, said: "I'd better wait and see."

4-H Members, Leaders Will Be Recognized

National 4-H achievement day Nov. 2 will honor Nebraska's 31,000 4-H club members and 6,147 volunteer local leaders.

The 4-H enrollment now stands at an all-time high across the country. An average of 30 4-H clubs a county are organized in all the states. Nebraska has 3,217 clubs.

Figures released by W. M. Antes, state leader of 4-H and young men and women at the University of Nebraska, show that last year Nebraska's 4-Hers completed nearly 44,609 individual projects in farming, homemaking, community service, and other activities.

Specific accomplishments: members owned and cared for 25,609 head of livestock, 45,266 birds in poultry projects; grew 2,083 acres of food, feed and fiber crops; improved about 4,861 acres through soil and water conservation and management projects canned and preserved 32,514 quarts of vegetables, fruits and other foods.

They froze 9,497 pounds of food and 7,407 quarts of food; prepared 236,524 dishes and served 83,029 meals; completed 17,754 garments and 28,278 other articles in sewing.

Other activities included home improvement and management, health nursing, first aid and leadership.

Two French Strikers Die, 200 Injured

PARIS (AP)—Two shipyard strikers were killed and 200 injured in a destructive clash with authorities at St. Nazaire Thursday on the eve of a nation-wide 24-hour walkout by many unions. They are protesting high living costs.

At Nantes, several hundred striking metal workers hurled stones and iron bolts at police in a flare-up symptomatic of labor tension in this country without a government.

The strikers at St. Nazaire were angered by a management lock-out after almost a month of rotating wildcat work stoppages. They smashed nearly every front window in the huge shipyard company's main office, ransacked offices and overturned a police van. Police reinforcements finally restored order.

Strike Meeting
The incident at Nantes came when police tried to disperse a crowd returning from a strike meeting. One passerby was slightly injured before police scattered the strikers with tear gas.

The nation-wide strike threatened to upset the lives of Frenchmen for a second time in little over a week. Last Wednesday a 24-hour walkout by electric power and gas workers virtually paralyzed the nation.

Communist and some non-Communist unions called on railwaymen, construction and metal workers, postal, telephone and airline employees and many others to quit their jobs. The Socialist unions urged its members to stay out of the strike.
